Enlisted Veterans In Reserves To Be Home By Christmas

BY FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army has put a "home by Christmas" tag on enlisted World War Two veterans called involuntarily from the reserve.

Other developments on the military front today:

1. The defense department wants congress to give everyone in all branches of the armed forces—from private on up—a ten per cent pay raise, with an $800 top.

2. Selective service says draft boards across the nation will begin next week reclassifying childless married men at draft age.

Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.), of the House Appropriations Subcommittee read the House a letter yesterday from Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg announcing the new army release plan for veteran reservists below the rank of commissioned officer.

Officers Must Stay

The letter also said: The air force will release all its enlisted men ordered to duty from the volunteer reserve after 12 months service. But again, officers, "particularly pilots and other trained crew personnel," will for the most part have to stay 17 months.

The navy is releasing its enlisted men in this category after about 15 months service. The marine corps will release by June, 1952, its volunteer and inactive reserves—both enlisted and officer—who were assigned to duty before June 30, 1951. They will have served an average of about 14 months.

Another letter from the Pentagon, this one from Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, went yesterday to House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Pay Raised Asked
It asked "urgently" for a flat ten per cent pay raise for everyone in service, retroactive to last July 1. It would be limited to $800 a year for any individual.

Lovett estimated the expense at around $800,000,000 a year. He said that in view of heavy defense spending, he was reluctant to make the request, but rising living costs made it urgent.

The raise would be in base pay and living allowances. Besides the army, navy, air force, marines and coast guards, it would go to personnel of the coast and geodetic survey, the public health service, and to cadets and ensigns.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, announced draft boards will soon be tagging married men without children for the armed services. They must be in the draft age bracket—18½ through 25 years.

Most married men of the draft age have previously been in the deferred, 3-A class. But President Truman has issued new regulations—based on the new draft law—removing deferment for married men unless they have children.

Hershey estimated about 500,000 men are affected, and that something under 200,000 would be classified 1-A, eligible for service. He based the estimate on average rates of rejection.

Hershey said men previously registered as married but childless, but who now are fathers, should notify their draft boards immediately. Otherwise those in the upper age brackets—24 or 25 years old—might be inducted quickly if they are re-classified 1-A.

If the wife of a childless married man becomes pregnant, he must give his draft board a physician's certificate before the board issues an order to report for induction. Hershey warned. Once the induction order is issued, he said, a certificate will do no good, because the local board has no authority to re-open the case.

If a registrant's pregnant wife loses her child, the man is required by law to report the miscarriage to his draft board. That makes him eligible for service again.

Actress Faces Quiz On Killing

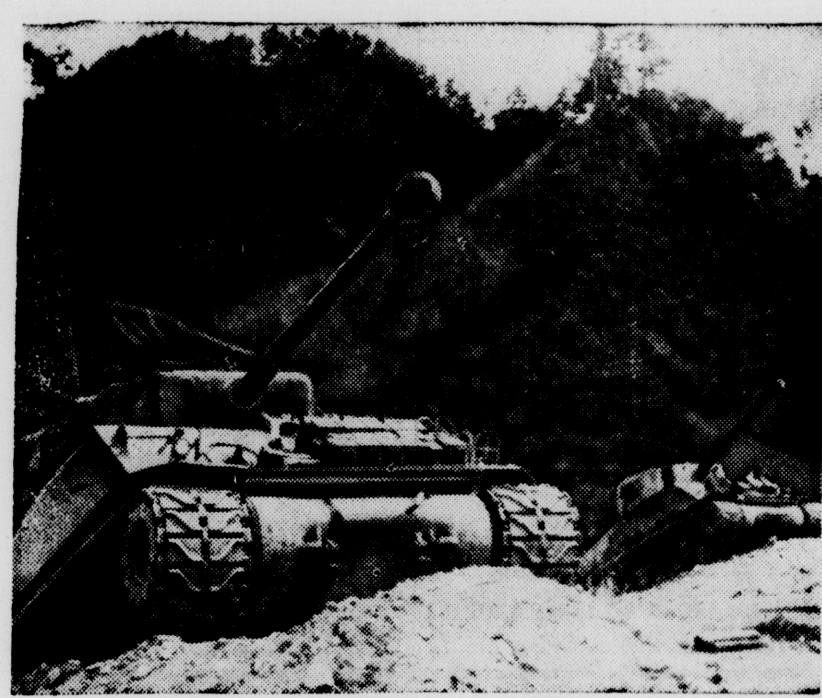

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Barbara Payton, blonde prize in a recent Hollywood brawl, will be asked to tell a federal grand jury what she knows about the killing of an underworld informer.

U. S. Attorney Ray M. Kinnison said yesterday the actress has been served with a subpoena ordering her to appear before the grand jury 12 days hence.

He explained that an inquiry is being reopened into the million dollar narcotics ring which operated in California until Abe Davidson, gang member and key witness in the case, was shot to death as he slept in a Fresno apartment on Feb. 28, 1950.

In court last year, Barbara Payton provided an alibi for one Stanley W. Adams, suspected as a member of the ring and in the Davidson killing. She said Adams was in her apartment the day Davidson was rubbed out.

Also present, she testified, was a film performer named Don Cougar. Both men are now in jail—Adams on a perjury conviction; Cougar for possessing marijuana. The latest summons for Barbara came shortly after she "became Mrs. Franchot Tone" and the actor were married in Cloquet, Minn.

Race Track Ticker Records Seized In Western Union Raid

DETROIT—(AP)—Police raided Detroit's main Western Union office last night, seizing records reportedly indicating the whole race track "ticker" operation in Michigan and Indiana.

Agents of the state attorney general's office examined the records today in a suddenly expanded inquiry into organized gambling.

Last night's raid was a surprise maneuver.

City police, headed by the ace rackets-buster, Inspector Clayton Nowlin, went to the Western Union downtown headquarters and seized the records of six ticker tape machines.

These are the type used by race track bookmakers. The seized records reportedly gave the locations and names of all renters of tickers in Michigan and Indiana.

No arrests were made. The raid here ostensibly was linked with the raid on an alleged bookie in Grand Rapids from which court cases have resulted against three Western Union officials. All were charged with conspiracy to violate gambling laws.

The police raiders, acting under a search warrant from Wayne County Prosecutor K. O'Brien, were accompanied by Assistant Attorney General Eugene F. Townsend.

Western Union has taken the position that it cannot police its own equipment but that it is willing to remove it from the possession of any person or establishment if illegal use is shown.

Instructor Drowns When Canoe Upsets

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Murray Slotnick, 24, an assistant professor of physics at University of Michigan, drowned in Barton pond near here late yesterday.

Slotnick was out on the pond with Donald A. Glaser, an instructor at the university, in a sail-rigged canoe. The canoe upset and both occupants were thrown into the water.

Glaser swam toward shore to get a boat. Slotnick went under before aid could reach him.

Twin Check Of RFC Influence Peddling Has Uncertain End

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Twin Senate investigations of contacts between the Democratic and Republican National chairmen and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation came to an uncertain end today.

An official report is still to come—and there is even a possibility the probe may be resumed.

Boss Makes Shakeup

Under scrutiny of the Senate investigations subcommittee was the propriety of relations between the huge government lending agency and Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., or the one hand and Republican Chairman Cuy C. Gabrielson on the other.

A Senate banking subcommittee recently accused the RFC of improper subservience to an influence ring reaching into the White House desks of some presidential aides. A federal grand jury is looking into the accusations.

The RFC's new boss, W. Stuart Symington, has made a series of

Red Boss Says Bombs Are For Defense Only

Soviets Planning No Attack On America

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW—(AP)—Generalissimo Joseph Stalin disclosed today Russia recently exploded an atomic bomb in a test and plans more test blasts of "atomic bombs of various calibers."

This was the first time the Soviet Union had announced it had exploded an atomic bomb.

Stalin made his revelation in a front page interview with an unnamed correspondent of Pravda, official newspaper of the Russian Communist party.

Aggression Denied

The announcement was telephoned to U. S. Ambassador Alan Kirk just before he left for the airport to board a plane for the United States. The news did not delay his departure.

Stalin advised American leaders not to "get excited and raise the alarm about the atomic bomb explosion in the U. S. S. R."

The Russian leader said Soviet bombs are no threat to American security because the "Soviet Union is not contemplating an attack on the United States or any other country whatsoever at any time."

Instead, he said, Russian bomb developments are for her own defense against aggression.

"The testing of atomic bombs of various calibers will be carried out in future also according to the plan for our country's defense against the Anglo-American aggressive front," Stalin said.

Veteran, 28, Dead For 15 Minutes, May Not Recover

LONG BEACH, Calif.—(AP)—

Brought back to life after his heart stopped beating, Melvin E. Hewitt still hovered near death today.

Physicians at the Veterans Administration hospital here were doubtful that the 28-year-old Navy veteran would survive at all. Hewitt has been unconscious since his life was restored by an emergency operation two days ago.

The surgery followed a scuffle outside a saloon, during which Hewitt was injured in a fall. His friends rushed him to a clinic in El Monte.

Doctors there said the man had been dead about 15 minutes before they cut open his chest and brought him back to life by massaging his heart and injecting stimulants.

The operation itself is not too unusual. But doctors said in this instance the patient had been lifeless about twice as long as in any similar known case and that when a brain has been without oxygen for so long a time, it rarely can recover from such a shock.

Bloody 'Heartbreak Ridge' Seized In Big Allied Attack

By NATE POLOWETZKY

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(AP)—American and French infantrymen charging with fixed bayonets behind flame-throwers seized virtually all of bloody Heartbreak Ridge today.

The fighting flared up suddenly in the Eastern Korea mountains as the Allied offensive in the west ground to a halt—with most objectives secured.

On the east coast the U. N. Allies jabbed twice at the Reds Friday—by sea and land. The battleship New Jersey led a small task force on a bombardment raid into Hungnam Harbor, 125 miles north of the 38th parallel. And an infantry patrol penetrated Kosong, 40 miles north of the parallel.

No Word On Truce

There was no new move toward reopening truce talks.

One American patrol was surrounded for six hours on the west central front. But otherwise beaten Chinese appeared to have given up completely.

The long stalemated battle of Heartbreak Ridge erupted suddenly in a surprise night attack by American and French troops.

Infantrymen of the U. S. Second division's 23rd regiment, charging with fixed bayonets stormed to the top of a 3,000-foot peak. They captured it for the third time in a month.

They killed 100 Red Koreans in the predawn fight. Other Reds fled in disorder before the Americans' flame throwers and white phosphorous grenades.

Best Since Last Fall

The four-day-old offensive by 100,000 troops of nine nations pushed ahead three to four miles and gave the United Nations the best line they have held in the west since last fall.

In the air 33 U. S. Sabre jets fought about 100 Russian type MIG-15 jets in the continuing air war over Northwest Korea. One Sabre was shot down in the 15-minute battle. The pilot was rescued. The Air Force reported one MIG was probably destroyed and two damaged.

Newly won hills of the western front, including five captured Friday, formed a parapet of defenses north of the winding Imjin River.

In the trackless mountains of Eastern Korea, U. S. Second division infantrymen and attached French units stormed to the top of a 3,000-foot peak on "Heartbreak Ridge," using flame throwers and demolition charges.

Warships Silence Guns

The height had been won and lost twice before in three weeks of bloody fighting. More peaks along the Saddle Ridge, north of Yanggu, must be won before the U. N. Allies have breached North Korean defenses and deprived the Reds of a nearby assembly area.

Allied patrols operated north of Heartbreak at points more than 20 miles north of parallel 38.

Off the east coast, a Navy task force led by the battleship New Jersey moved boldly into Hungnam harbor, 125 miles north of parallel 38 Friday, quickly silenced Red shore batteries and bombarded Red strongholds. It was the heaviest shelling given Hungnam since United Nations forces pulled out of the area last December.

The Reds top commanders, meanwhile, remained silent on Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's two-day-old invitation for them to pick a no-man's land site for resumption of the truck talk the Reds broke off Aug. 23 at Kaesong.

In the west, the Allied offensive exploded within less than 15 miles of Kaesong.

Huge Money Bills To Get Priority In Senate Monday

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two of the biggest bills of the 82nd Congress—a $56,937,808,080 defense budget and a $7,483,400,000 foreign-aid measure—are slated for a high priority when the Senate meets Monday. Administration leaders are confident they will be pushed through rapidly and with little trouble.

The defense budget measure, biggest peacetime appropriation bill in the nation's history, cleared the House yesterday. It previously had passed both branches but differences over amounts forced a second trip through Congress.

Its total includes $19,886,032,030 for the Army, $15,877,891,000 for the Navy and Marine Corps, $20,642,785,000 for the Air Force and $529,100,000 for the office of secretary of defense.

The services have in addition an estimated $37,000,000,000 in carry-over funds from previous appropriations, making a total of $94,000,000,000 available for spending. Of this, an estimated $40,000,000,000 is expected to be actually spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Parade On Sunday

After a sermon by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of Marquette, Mich., the stadium lights will be blacked out. Each worshiper then will light and hold aloft a candle, and the throng will recite in unison the Holy Name pledge.

A blessing from Pope Pius XII will be read.

The convention will close Sunday with a parade in which some 150,000 marchers will participate.

Tickets Up To $50

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Police said scalpers were getting $50—and more—for tickets to the sell-out Michigan State-Ohio State game today. But, said police, there isn't anything they can do about it.

Tiger Stadium Church Tonight For Holy Name

DETROIT—(AP)—A baseball stadium becomes a cathedral of the open air here tonight.

An estimated 100,000 Catholics are expected to fill Detroit's vast Briggs stadium for candlelight holy hour services.

The services will be one of the principal events of the fifth national convention of the Holy Name societies, which concludes here Sunday.

Big Cross In Outfield

A cross 45 feet high will be erected in the baseball outfield area. It will tower above a 14-foot high altar.

The services will begin with a procession led by Edward Cardinal Mooney of the Detroit archdiocese. The procession will move down an aisle of honor formed by uniformed Knights of Columbus and other Catholic organizations.

Police officers, members of Holy Name societies from throughout the United States, will be part of the honor guard.

Delta's Cost Percentage Tops State For Welfare And Medical Assistance

The 1950 cost percentage for welfare and medical assistance in Delta county was the highest for any county in the state, according to Auditor General John B. Martin's recent financial report of Michigan county government.

The calendar year 1950 is covered in the report.

Welfare and medical assistance as reported by the auditor general's department includes all county expenditures for welfare and medical assistance, including expenditures of the county social welfare department, county hospitals or sanatoriums, county health units, state institutional charges, and so forth.

Delta 60.83 per cent

Total gross cost of Michigan counties' welfare and medical assistance programs in 1950 was $48,718,068.30 or about 40.5 per cent of total county expense.

Delta county's percentage for welfare and medical assistance was 60.83 of its total county government cost for the past year, the highest percentage for any Michigan county.

The percentage analysis of county government costs shows that in 35 counties, over 50 per cent of county government expenditures went for maintenance and construction of highways; while in 17 counties, expenditures for welfare and medical assistance represented over 40 per cent of gross county government costs.

Highest In Group

The report shows that Delta county not only topped the state in its percentage for welfare and medical assistance, but was far above the percentage for counties in its population bracket.

Eight Michigan counties with populations between 30,000 and 35,000 have the following cost percentages for welfare and medical assistance:

Delta—60.83, Branch—34.04, Clinton—25.90, Gratiot—19.42, Hillsdale—38.08, Huron—15.22, Montcalm—21.15, Sanilac—15.00.

Branch county has the smallest population with 20,202 and Gratiot the highest in the group with 33,429. Delta's population is 32,913, the auditor general reports.

And Highest In U. P.

Besides being the highest in the state and in its comparable population group, Delta county's percentage expenditure for welfare and medical assistance was the highest for any county in the Upper Peninsula.

The U. P. counties, their populations, and percentage for welfare and medical assistance was reported as follows:

County	Pop.	Pct.
Marquette	47,654	47.69
Houghton	39,771	51.74
Delta	32,913	60.83
Chippewa	29,206	33.86
Gogebic	27,053	40.17
Menominee	25,299	27.29
Dickinson	24,844	46.53
Iron	17,692	46.34
Ontonagon	10,282	29.90
Alcona	10,007	38.81
MacKinnac	9,287	22.41
Schoolcraft	9,148	36.89
Baraga	8,037	50.54
Luce	8,147	24.96
Keweenaw	2,918	24.88

State Pays Part

The state aids the counties by contributing a part of the cost of their health, welfare and medical assistance programs, the auditor general reports.

"Under Act 280 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, the state is required to reimburse the counties for at least 50 per cent of the counties' direct relief costs, including medical care other than hospitalization. State aid for direct relief in excess of 50 per cent may be granted to those counties whose need as compared with their financial resources indicates the necessity for a larger percentage of state aid.

"The state also participates in the cost of maintaining the county health departments and reimburses the counties for every tubercular patient treated in a county sanatorium.

"The medical treatment of afflicted and crippled children is another county program in which the state participates."

Income from a Michigan veterans trust fund is also distributed to county and district veterans' committees for the assistance of Michigan Veterans of World War II and their wives and dependents.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Boatswain 3rd Class, Ronald Shandonay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shandonay, 302 North 14th, has notified his parents that he is returning Friday for a 29 day leave. This is his first trip home in two and a half years.

He enlisted in the Navy on February 5, 1945 and trained at Great Lakes Naval Station. Ronald has been on sea duty on the U. S. Salem and has recently returned from France.

Apprentice Airman Justin J. Cousineau has returned to Great Lakes Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., after spending a leave period with relatives at Garden Junction, Escanaba, Garder, Manistique and Munising. He will be reassigned to Air Transport Command, Westover Air Force Base, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Sgt. Daniel E. Wellman of Fort Riley, Kansas spent the weekend at the home of his mother, Mrs. Joe Fudala, and his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Wellman, at South Ford River. He was enroute to Camp McCoy, Wis., for a three week schooling course in chemical warfare training. He will then report back to Fort Riley, Kansas, to train recruits.

Highway Chief Yields On Access Roads To State Institutions

LANSING—(AP)—State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, a determined man, has bowed at last to the legislature's demand he maintain access roads at state institutions.

Ziegler yielded gracefully to instructions of the state administrative board and seconded the motion instructing him to get going. The board acted on motion of Attorney General Frank G. Millard, who ruled that institutional access roads were part of the public road system and that the legislature acted legally in appropriating $166,000 for their upkeep. Ziegler had challenged that action.

Ziegler has fought demands by two governors, including Democrat G. Mennen Williams, that he start the program, but he bowed to the ruling of the Republican

Red Feather Drive Promotes Rivalry Between Two Cities

Keen rivalry is being generated between Escanaba and Gladstone in the Delta County Community Chest campaign, Nick Chapakis, general drive chairman, reports.

The Gladstone city committee recently decided to erect a 14-foot feather made of plywood to record the progress of the fund raising campaign in that community. Plywood was contributed by Stanley R. Venne of the Northwestern Plywood & Veneer company.

Taller and Taller

The Escanaba city committee then decided to erect a bigger feather-shaped sign for the same purpose. Juel Lee, general manager of the Birds Eye Veneer company, offered enough plywood to erect an 18-footer. Today, the Gladstone committee was reported to be revising its plans to make a still taller sign to be erected in the business district there.

The Escanaba city organization will hold a meeting at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office 7:30 Monday evening to complete plans for the $20,000 campaign, which will open on Oct. 15.

City Committees

Among those who will attend the meeting are: city chairman, James G. Ward Jr.; industrial committee co-chairmen, Sam Ham and Nyal Witham; advanced gifts, O. V. Thatcher and Carl J. Sawyer; Ludington street, Claude Leclerc and Dale Vinette; block-by-block residential, Mrs. John Fawcett and Mrs. Guy Travers; civic and fraternal organizations, Dr. Vern Johnson; schools, John A. Sally Forrest To Visit City

Hollywood Actress On Michigan Tour

Sally Forrest, rising young movie star, and an outstanding male personality of Hollywood will come to Escanaba Friday noon, Oct. 12, on a tour of Michigan.

The tour is a part of Hollywood's nation-wide observance of the golden jubilee of the movie industry.

Sally Forrest has been playing in the movies five years. She appeared in several Ida Lupino productions, had the opposite role to Red Skelton in "Excuse My Dust," and recently finished a M-G-M movie with Mickey Rooney.

Other Hollywood actors, directors and writers making the Michigan tour are Walter Pidgeon, Gale Storm, Sam Zimbalist, Lewis Allen and Valentine Davies. Which one of this group will accompany Miss Forrest to Escanaba will be announced later.

A luncheon is planned for the two visitors from Hollywood Friday noon. From Escanaba, they will leave Friday afternoon for Marquette.

Mrs. W. J. LaFave, Rapid River, Dies; Funeral Tuesday

GLADSTONE—Mrs. William J. LaFave, 46, Rapid River, died this morning at 1:15 in St. Francis hospital where she had been a patient the past three days. She had been ill two years.

Mrs. LaFave, the former Leah Beauchamp, was born in Wilson on March 3, 1905. Her marriage to William LaFave was solemnized at St. Patrick's church in Escanaba March 24, 1924.

Surviving are her husband and three brothers, Isaac, Escanaba; Edward, Wilson; and Ned, Iron River.

The body was taken to the Skradski funeral home in Gladstone where friends may call beginning Sunday afternoon. The rosary will be recited at 8 Monday evening. Funeral services will be held in All Saints church at 9 Tuesday morning and burial will be in Fernwood cemetery.

Former Escanaban Will Guard Royal Couple At Windsor

A crack team of nine Detroit police department detectives, including George McArthur, formerly of Escanaba, has been assigned to guard Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when they visit Windsor Oct. 15.

Detective McArthur is a brother of Byron McArthur and Mrs. Earl Taylor of Escanaba.

The hand-picked group will guard the Windsor side of the tunnel and bridge and the royal couple during their appearance in Windsor.

Heavy Foliage Mars Hunting

But Some Hunters Shoot Birds

A spell of drier weather and a faster disrobing of trees and bushes would improve Upper Peninsula hunting which got off to a poor to mediocre start the first few days this fall.

Season on ruffed grouse (partridge), sharptail grouse and prairie chicken continues through October 20, rabbits through March 1.

Conservation department field men report the early in the week opening, heavy foliage, muddy backroads and excessively wet to flooded conditions all contributed in holding down the size of the hunting force and the game kill.

Good In Delta

Best of the reports were from Delta county where there were more hunters and a better kill than during opening days last year. Hunting pressure was nearly the same as last year but the kill was light in Alger and Marquette counties.

In the five-county Baraga district, hunting pressure was moderate. More "pats" were observed; sharptails were best in Matchwood and Topaz areas.

In the three-county Crystal Falls district, fewer hunters were out, a fair kill of partridge, and a light bag of pheasants in southern Menominee county where they are legal.

Favorable at Newberry

Fewer hunters but a fair ruffed and sharptail grouse take was the report from the four-county Newberry district. Best were the Cedarville, Hessell, Goetzville and Eight Mile corner areas.

Drummond Island, one location where the department has a good check on hunting, reflected the lighter hunting pressure and smaller kill. Fieldmen contacted 98 hunters with 59 sharptails bagged as compared to 109 hunters with 83 sharptails the first day last year.

Mobile X-Ray Unit On Tour Of Peninsula

Two Michigan Department of Health mobile X-ray units are offering an opportunity for free chest X-rays in the Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac Health Unit, according to Dr. Donald A. Cowan, Health Director.

Gould City will be the host for X-rays for the south-western section of the tri-county health unit on Monday from 9:30 a. m. to 12:00 a. m. and from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. A unit is scheduled for Newberry, October 12, 15 and 18.

The X-ray survey is designed especially for apparently healthy adults. Students were screened by the tuberculin patch test and reactors will receive tickets for X-rays. "But", Dr. Cowan pointed out, "the best way to protect the children is for their parents, grandparents and other adult associates to be X-rayed. Over ninety per cent of our tuberculosis problem is now beyond school age. More than twice as many men as women are affected, with the peak between forty and seventy years of age.

"Tuberculosis is probably our most expensive single public health problem," said Dr. Cowan. "Over $12,000,000 a year is spent through taxes in Michigan for tuberculosis hospitalization alone. The X-ray units are operated on tax funds to try to find tuberculosis early, before it spreads and when it is usually easier and quicker to cure. Most people are as healthy as they feel," said Dr. Cowan. "On the average, only one tuberculosis case is found among a thousand people X-rayed. But it can make a great deal of difference to the person, his family and community if the occasional case is discovered. The preventive program is well worth while. Everyone would be wise to have an X-ray once a year," said Dr. Cowan. "Serious difficulties can be prevented if spotted early, not only tuberculosis, but also some types of heart trouble and even lung cancer."

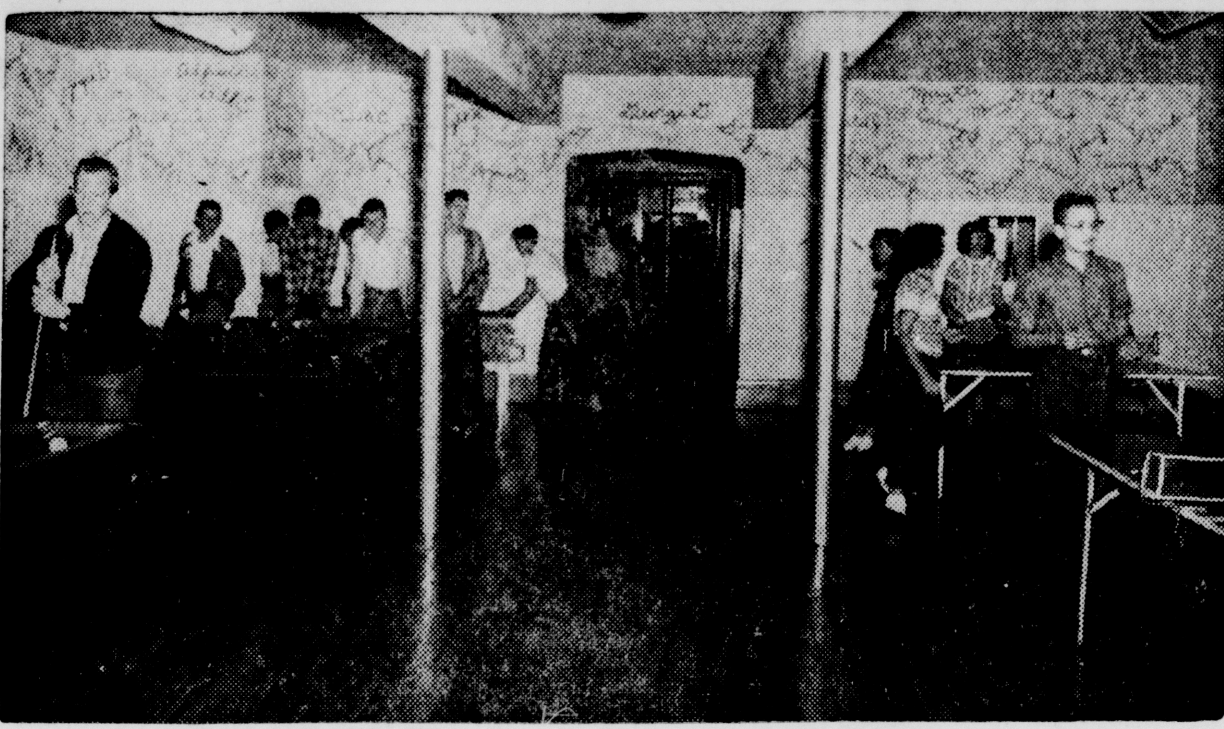

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association, through Christmas Seals, provided the material for the school tuberculin testing program and is assisting the health unit in the X-ray promotion phase.

Resorters Call For New Ferry From West U. P.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(AP)—The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association wants a new state ferry line to operate between the western part of the Upper Peninsula to a point in the Lower Peninsula.

Further, the association went on record at a meeting here yesterday for a suitable Michigan motto for automobile license plates and promotion and development of Michigan's historic sites.

The group supported the State Tourist Council in opposition to a recommendation of the "Little Hoover Commission" for a new plan for allocating state funds for tourist promotion.

Meanwhile the organization heard a warning about highway deaths from Editor C. D. McNamee of the Muskegon Chronicle.

"I can conceive a situation a few short years from now," McNamee said, "when our highways will be too dangerous for people to venture forth for pleasure if they have any regard for their lives."

The association also heard from other newspapermen. Ray Voss, outdoor editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, pleaded for more effective measures against stream pollution. Arthur M. Kinkley, publisher of the Petoskey Evening News, spoke on West Michigan's tourist advantages.

A proposal to ask the state legislature to delay observance of Labor Day for two weeks as a measure to lengthen the summer resort season, was rejected by the association.

In warm and humid weather there is so much moisture in the air that static electrical charges are carried away and do not accumulate. Static electric effects, therefore, occur most readily in cold, dry weather.

'Harvest Of Harmony' Here Oct. 20

Four real headliners have been signed up for the fourth annual barber shop quartet concert sponsored by the Escanaba SPEBSQSA chapter, to be held at the Oliver Memorial auditorium Saturday night, Oct. 20.

The featured quartets on the Escanaba song program, called "Harvest of Harmony", will come from three states, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, according to Ken Thompson, general chairman. The list of guest quartets includes the Sing-Copates of Appleton, Wis., the For Mors of Madison, Wis., the Gay Nineties of Montevideo, Minn., and the Interludes of Midland, Mich. Of these the Interludes are the only ones who have previously appeared on a local barber shop program. They were here in 1949.

The Escanaba barber shop chorus and quartet, along with speciality numbers, will fill in the rest of the two-hour program planned for Oct. 20. Curtain time will be 8:15 p. m.

Delta County Girls Receive U. Of M. Awards

Thirty-six women students at the University of Michigan were chosen for awards at the beginning of the fall semester, it was announced by the Dean of Women.

Awards for tuition and registration were made to thirty women from the Crapo C. Smith Fund, which was bequeathed in honor of Smith's grandfather, former Michigan governor Henry H. Crapo. Six women were awarded Florence Huson Scholarships, for which preference is given to women students of medicine.

Mary L. Cretens, 567 North Ninth street, Gladstone, student of medicine, was among those who received the Florence Huson scholarships, and Georgia Babalad, 154 North Cedar street, Manistique was one of the recipients of the Smith awards.

Development Bureau Prepare Soil To Meet Oct. 18-19 Maps Of Farms

The 41st annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will be held at Iron River on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 18 and 19.

The program will open with a tourist and resort workshop session to be conducted by Robert W. McIntosh and C. A. Gunn, both of Michigan State College. The workshop will be held at the Iron Inn at 2 Thursday afternoon. Industry and the tourist business will be topics on the luncheon program Friday noon. Speakers will be: "Michigan Has Men and Resources for Industrial Growth," Walter Ciesler, Detroit Edison company, Detroit; and "Michigan Holding Its Place in the Travel Field," Robert Furlong, Michigan Tourist Council.

During the afternoon, the following resort promotion topics will be discussed.

"Information Bureau Important"—Merrill Mason, secretary, Ottawa Tourist Bureau, Iron River.

"Service Your Inquiries Promptly and Factually"—Phil DeGraff, Trout Lake.

"Good Food, Attractively Served, Vital to the American Plan Resort"—J. J. Bacharias, Sodus, Mich.

"Michigan State College Will Assist You in Your Resort Management Problems"—Robert McIntosh, Michigan State College.

Friday evening's banquet will be held at the Stambaugh high school gymnasium.

Speakers will be Gov. G. Mennen Williams and William J. Cochran, Iron Mountain, member of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority.

Study Garden-Fayette Area Land Use

Preparation of soil maps of farms in the Garden-Fayette area as the basis to determine the best use for each acre of land will be started next week, it was announced today by Tom Hughes, farm planner with the Delta soil Conservation District.

Shown on the maps will be the type of soil, the per cent of land slope, and the amount of erosion which has taken place.

The maps will assist the farmer and the farm planner in deciding what rotation, crop or farming practice is best suited to the land on the individual farm.

Bert Perry, Hartley LaBute, Leonard Spaulding, Fred Mullen, Carl Watchorn and Robert Watchorn are to have their farms mapped this coming week.

Robert Watchorn, a district director for Soil Conservation, said that other farmers have shown interest in the program.

The Garden-Fayette area is one of the oldest agriculturally in Delta county. Some of its land was cleared a century ago and has been in cultivation since.

Check Fire Hazards In Homes During Fire Prevention Week

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK starts tomorrow, Oct. 7, and extends through Saturday, Oct. 13. Of all the weeks in the year set aside to commemorate one activity or another, Fire Prevention Week is one of the most important to the American people. Fire is a great enemy, taking many lives and destroying millions of dollars of property annually.

Fire Prevention Week is designed to focus public attention upon the hazards that exist in every home, every business, every public building. To keep fire hazards at a minimum requires constant vigilance and, of course, periodic inspections. Electric wires get frayed and become potential sources of danger. Accumulations of rags, particularly rags soaked with paint, turpentine or linseed oil, are always hazardous because they can and frequently do burst into flame even without being ignited by a spark.

Heating plants are another source of fire danger. They require constant inspection to see that flues are properly cleaned, that no inflammable substance is near by to become ignited by heat.

Fire fighters know that fire protection is nine-tenths prevention and only one-tenth fire fighting. The time to fight fires is before they happen. Once a fire gets under way, there is certain to be damage, perhaps even loss of life.

During Fire Prevention Week, check your own home for possible fire dangers. If you are uncertain that you can recognize a fire hazard, call the Escanaba fire department. They'll be happy to send a trained fireman to your home—at no cost to you, of course—and make an examination of your premises. If they find any potentially dangerous conditions, they'll tell you how to correct them.

Oil Is Great Tool Of Peace

THE Wall Street Journal recently carried a long news dispatch from Saudi Arabia. It dealt with some late achievements of the Arabian American Oil Company—a combined operation of a group of leading American oil companies—which has done an incredible job in developing the oil resources of that difficult land.

Since 1944, production has increased 40-fold—from 21,000 to 820,000 barrels a day! Now, in the words of the company's chief engineer, it "looks as if we're sitting on top of the world's largest oil field." Indications are that the field may be 40 miles or more long—and if that turns out to be the case, it will be of record size.

The Arabian American Oil Company is a fine example of what free enterprise can do. It didn't put the oil in Saudi Arabia; it found it. But the oil had been there for centuries, and in its underground state it was of no benefit to anyone. American capital, ingenuity, know-how, and engineering and administrative genius made up the team that got the oil out, refined it, and put it to work. And, in the process, Saudi Arabia and its peoples have benefited enormously. The oil developments bring a higher civilization to it.

The Saudi Arabian venture is spectacular in the extreme. But, right here at home the oil industry is working day in and day out to make better and fuller use of our own oil resources. The search for new wells goes on ceaselessly and as a result of it our known reserves have steadily grown even as consumption has soared. Oil is one of the great tools of peace, and an essential weapon of war.

No sane person would suggest that any British government ruling in the postwar turmoil would not have had serious troubles. But the reign of the Laborites has laid bare a fundamental weakness in their outlook on life.

They do not speak the language of growth, of creation, of new things. They speak always of sharing the old, of restricting, of preserving what now exists.

In a world of more and more people, who seek with increasing energy to gain for themselves more and more of the substance of life, British Labor's principles are no shining beacon into the future.

Nor is there any more promise in the radical Bevan wing of the party, now temporarily back in the fold for campaign purposes. Aneurin Bevan merely wants to de-emphasize rearmament so the party may get on with its faltering program of nationalizing industry and spreading existing production thinner. He would like this experiment conducted in purist isolation from troublesome world currents.

Other Editorial Comments

SICKNESS PLEA OVERDONE

"Alcoholism is a sickness," says Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., one of the leading liquor organizations, in a pamphlet just published. This theory has obtained considerable acceptance. Many people feel it removes unfair condemnation of chronic drinkers. But it is misleading, and in some cases may operate to an alcoholic's disadvantage. If an inebriate feels that alcoholism is a hopeless disease, he may forego attempts to help.

To call alcoholism a sickness may serve as an alibi for persons who have a tendency to give up and not fight, in the judgment of Dr. Joseph Thimann, superintendent and medical director of the Washington Hospital of Boston, the oldest institution for inebriates in the United States.

Drinking occasionally develops into an uncontrollable pattern of automatic compulsion, Dr. Thimann concedes. In many instances good intentions and will power are not sufficient to enable the drinker to stop. But such behavior is abnormal, he emphasizes, adding that an alcoholic cannot leave his hands in his lap—he has to do his part.

It is important to maintain individual responsibility. The individual makes the original decision to drink. And he has repeated opportunities to prove, as many have, that man can master false appetites.

GERMANY'S VIEW

The foreign ministers have been discussing the financing of German rearmament, the cost of which in the German view can appropriately be borne by almost anybody except Germany.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The soybean market took a strange nose dive last month, which looks suspiciously as if someone is tampering in soybeans again. Previously, a group of Chinese speculators rigged the market, so the price of soybeans shot up $1 a bushel. This time, however, the price dropped from $3.14 to $2.70 a bushel, so that speculators betting on the short side of the market were able to make a killing. American farmers took the loss.

The agriculture department is required by law to investigate any suspicious activity on the commodity market.

If Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will look into the mysterious manipulations in both soybeans and rye, this column can provide him with sworn witnesses who will testify that certain high Chinese have been interested in both commodities.

These same Chinese are able to make a profit on the commodity market without paying U. S. taxes, then use the money to finance the smear campaigns against such men as Secretary of State Acheson and Ex-Secretary of Defense Marshall.

MacARTHUR REVERSED

Conscientious Gen. Omar Bradley was cross-examined by friends of General MacArthur in a closed-door session of the armed services committee the other day as to why the Air Force recently bombed Rashin near the Siberian border—the same city which MacArthur was ordered not to bomb.

Bradley also warned senators during the same meeting that the big public hullabaloo about secret weapons might be dangerous, since development of these weapons was "four, five or six years away."

The chief quizzing of the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff was conducted by Sen. Harry Cain, Republican of Washington.

"There is where I came in," observed Cain, when Bradley explained that General Ridgway's orders were still the same about bombing Manchuria as those given to MacArthur.

Cain countered by reminding General Bradley that MacArthur had been forbidden to bomb Rashin, a transportation center on the Korean-Siberian border. Cain asked why these orders had now been reversed.

Bradley replied that the MacArthur hearings naturally had been read in the Kremlin, and as a result, Red army leaders were convinced Rashin was absolutely safe. Therefore, they had built up huge supplies with no protection whatsoever.

The reason MacArthur had been ordered not to bomb Rashin still held, Bradley explained—namely, that it was only 20 miles from the Russian border and we did not want to take the risk of overshooting into Siberia. Therefore, the Air Force was ordered to bomb Rashin in clear weather at a low altitude, and by visual recognition, not instruments. The result was heavy enemy destruction.

RUSSIAN AIR SUPERIORITY

Bradley also told senators that the biggest threat to U. N. forces was still the Russian air force. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon asked whether we could hold our air superiority if Russia got into the war. Bradley replied with a flat no, stressed that Russia has air superiority.

On the ground, Bradley predicted a winter stalemate with neither side strong enough to wage a successful offensive. He said our plan was to stay on the "active defense," harass the enemy and wipe out as many Chinese as possible. He seemed pessimistic about the true tactics.

Senator Russell of Georgia pointed out that the public has been encouraged to pin its faith on new, mighty weapons with the power to achieve "fantastic results."

Bradley replied that the defense department is working on such weapons, but warned that they are "four, five or six years away." Decrying the talk about secret weapons, he warned that such talk is a disservice to the public. The armed services aren't able to "perform miracles," said infantryman Bradley, and urged Chairman Russell to issue a statement, playing down the importance of secret weapons.

Ho, Hum!

AP Writer Oatis In Communist Jail While Tass Reporters 'Spy' In U. S.

By RAY TUCKER
(Nationally known Washington correspondent and columnist)

WASHINGTON—The ten-year imprisonment of William N. Oatis, the Associated Press correspondent at Prague, is responsible for continuing Congressional and editorial demands for a journalistic boycott of the Russian and Moscow-employed newspaper corps which serves as Stalin's eyes and ears in the United States.

The thin, balding and bespectacled Oatis is now lodged in a filthy, rotten and brutally operated jail for asking the same sort of questions which Tass reporters ask here and in New York, the only two places in the United States where they have official offices.

Tass "Spies" in U. S.

The Oatis case demonstrates that what Tass is allowed to do here is regarded as "spying" in "iron curtain" countries.

The fact is that the treatment of Oatis is a climax. Fundamentally, the movement for expulsion is designed to force the Soviet to accord to all newspaper representatives the same freedom for honest reporting which Stalin's representatives enjoy in democratic countries. It is also an attempt to force a free interchange of news between the democratic and dictatorial states as a basis of mutual understanding.

The failure of the State and Justice Departments to recommend expulsion of Tass from Congressional press galleries has its ironic aspects, as does the refusal of the Standing Committee to declare Tass reporters ineligible. In fact, many Washington correspondents resent the Standing Committee's refusal to hold a referendum on the question. It is almost certain that a majority would vote for the ouster.

Expulsion Demanded

When the American Society of Newspaper Editors, through a special Washington committee, demanded expulsion, the Standing Committee asked Secretary Acheson and Attorney General McGrath for a ruling on the status of Tass. Mr. Acheson replied that Tass was a "Soviet government organization attached to the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R.," which is Stalin's puppet Cabinet. Mr. McGrath noted that Tass had registered with the Department of Justice under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, an official acknowledgment that it was a government rather than a newspaper unit.

The rules for admission to the Congressional press galleries require all applicants to declare that they do not represent any United States government agency, or "any foreign government." They must be bona fide reporters. Indeed, when the Voice of America sought admission of a few news-gatherers to the galleries, they were kept out because of this provision. Yet Stalin's reporters are allowed in, largely because Messrs. Acheson and McGrath refused to support demand for their eviction. They "passed the buck" to the Standing Committee, which is elected yearly by the 500-odd working reporters on Capitol Hill.

Indeed, the Standing Committee's pro-Tass action may be a major issue in the December election, when several members of the present group will seek another term. Many correspondents here are not at all happy over the committee's decision. They do not agree that the "freedom of the press" philosophy, as argued by the committee, extends to toleration of Tass. Nor do they believe that this example of turning the other cheek will help to release Oatis, or persuade the Kremlin to extend reportorial freedom to U. S. newspapermen.

The argument for official ouster of Tass is based on the belief that it is an espionage agency rather than a legitimate news-gathering organization. The privileges accorded its reporters in our financial and government centers—New York and Washington—make it Stalin's most effective nest of spies. Since the United States is his most-feared enemy, there is no place where he would prefer to have such an observation post as Tass.

No Barriers To Tass
Thanks to the government's and the committee's leniency, there are no official or unofficial barriers against Tass operations here or in

New York. Tass personnel attend sessions of Congress, committee meetings, White House and Cabinet members' press conferences. They pick up and forward to Moscow invaluable data published in the 50,000 documents issued annually by our government. Mikhail Federov, the aeronautical engineer who heads the Tass Washington Bureau, stands twice weekly within ten feet of President Truman, Secretary Acheson or Defense Secretary Lovett, although he has never been permitted to approach within 15,000 feet of that great proletarian leader, Josef Stalin.

During hearings on the MacArthur ouster, Army-Navy-Air unification, lend-lease, the State Department's Far Eastern policy and our current rearmament program, and especially during House Senate investigation of alleged "Commies" in Hollywood, Tass representatives sat at diamond horseshoe press tables. Believe it or not, the very copy paper on which they took voluminous, anti-American notes was paid for by Uncle Sam.—From McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Defense Base In Azores Strategic Way Station

The Azores, subject of a new defense agreement between the United States and Portugal, have served as a strategic way station in the Atlantic for nearly five centuries.

The nine volcanic islands rising steeply out of the ocean in an area 800 to 1,200 miles west of Portugal, are among the few surface-piercing peaks of the submerged Mid-Atlantic Ridge, the world's longest mountain range, says the National Geographic Society.

Columbus used the Island of Santa Maria as a stepping stone on the last lap of his return voyage from America in 1493. In galley days these "Isles of the Hawks" (from the Portuguese Azores) were ports of refuge for Spanish and Portuguese treasure armadas. Today, the old fortifications built to keep out rampaging privateers lie in picturesque ruins while modern air strips throb with action.

The new agreement defining facilities in the Azores to be used by the United States had a precedent in World War I when the Navy maintained a base in the islands. During World War II, hundreds of U. S. airmen were stationed at Lages Field, Terceira. Thousands more passed through to and from air battles over Europe. The island is about 2,400 miles from New York.

The Azores first became a way station for flyers in 1919 when the Navy plane NC4 hopped there from Newfoundland on the first trans-Atlantic flight. Twenty years later the "Yankee Clipper" made them a port of call on regular flights between New York and Marseille.

Franklin D. Roosevelt once suggested that the island of Flores might be suitable for United Nations headquarters.

Linked To Atlantis
The islands are sometimes poetically linked to the fabulous "lost continent of Atlantis"—the legendary land that Arabian geographers discovered only in medieval writings.

Today the white, pink and blue stuccoed houses with their red tile roofs give the islands a Mediterranean atmosphere. The famous "singing carts," named for their everclinking wheels, plod along streets paved in mosaic tile. Roadside are bordered with hydrangeas, azaleas, and camellias.

Stark volcanic peaks, the highest over 7,000 feet, rise above vineyards and intensively cultivated fields of pineapple, corn, wheat and tobacco. The Azorean climate is nearly ideal—the temperature is 45 degrees at the lowest extreme and 85 degrees at the highest. Fruits, grain, cheese, cattle, dairy products, canned fish and whale oil are the chief exports.

The island's 888 square miles support nearly 500,000 people, most of them of Portuguese origin, plus some descendants of English, Scottish and Irish immigrants. Many Portuguese who settled on Cape Cod, in New Bedford and elsewhere in the United States come from the Azores.

High Cost Of Living

Dear Editor:
I am writing in reference to the article on "Buying Habits Prove Escanaba Rich Market," printed in the Press on Sept. 14, 1951.

The article states that Escanaba residents spent $1,172, per family for food while other states spend only $729 or $850 per year. If true, then what is the reason for such figures. I am sure we are not eating any better than the rest of the country. Why then are we not able to live on the same amount as those families living in other parts of the country.

Wondering Housewife,
Mrs. Makosky,

Good Evening...

THE JUDGE'S PORTRAIT—Members of the Delta County Bar association and visitors to the court house in Escanaba earlier this week had the opportunity to view a new portrait of former Judge Farnk A. Bell of Negaunee.

The painting was done by Miss Hildgarde Kemp daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kemp of Marquette, and pictures the dean of Michigan jurists in an easy and typical pose.

One of the judge's hands rests in his lap with a book, the other is raised with fingers touching his ear—a characteristic gesture that often accompanied one of Judge Bell's favorite stories.

WE LIKED IT—Miss Kemp, who graduated from Alma college in 1949, is now teaching school near Saginaw.

Interested in art for several years, she has been drawing and painting as a student and her hope is to some day attend Chicago Art Institute for more training.

Judge Bell gave her a sitting and photograph and from these Miss Kemp painted a portrait marked by rich color and good composition.

"I like it better than the others," Judge Bell was quoted as saying when he saw the Kemp portrait about six weeks ago. "But do you think it is a good likeness?"

NOT SATISFACTORY—The "others" to which the judge referred were portraits commissioned by Bar associations of the several counties comprising the circuit and painted by a Mr. Andriacci (if our recollection is correct) of Ishpeming.

Delta county paid for one of those portraits and the general consensus is that it is not satisfactory. Attorney friends of the judge are frankly critical and say it should be turned to the wall or stored in the attic out of public view.

Andriacci is reported to have replied to the critics that they are not qualified to judge a work of art such as he produced.

COMMERCIAL JOB—The people may not be a judge of what is or is not a work of art, but they do know what they like or do not like.

Menominee county, for example, after seeing Andriacci's work, promptly sent a photograph of Judge Bell to a commercial portrait painting establishment and received in return an oil portrait that everyone agrees is an excellent likeness of the venerable and beloved jurist. This portrait now hangs in the court room at Menominee, receiving praise.

Delta county, meanwhile, continues to keep its "caricature" (as one critic termed it) and to complain that it bears little resemblance to Judge Bell.

THE MODERN ARTIST—It is my opinion, given for what it is worth, that so-called modern artists have so far departed from realism that few are able to turn out an acceptable portrait.

Abstractions and impressionism, based not on what is seen but how the artist emotionally reacts, are self-expressions—but not a workmanlike presentation of a subject.

Portraiture calls upon the artist to subjugate his personality to that of the subject. People want a good likeness of the person to be immortalized on canvas, not an exposition of the artist's soul.

And all too often the public feels that the exotic daubs turned out by the "modern" artist are not even the artist's method of self-expression, but rather an amateurish effort more designed to startle than to please.

Certainly it appears that much of today's "modern art" is produced to bring gasps and direct attention to the artist—and perhaps to cover up the artist's incapacity.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

A good thick if you can do it: S. L. of Los Angeles, spotted this gem in a news article: "... his farm at Martha's Vineyard, with his beautifully mellowed horse, his horses, surreys, and home churned butter hanging in a well!" Well!

Ardmore: Please give us the origin of the word comest.

Answer: Gladly; but prepare to be startled. Consider is the modern form of the Latin candelus, meaning "... (what do you suppose?) ... to look at the stars!" It comes from con, "with," plus sidus, "star."

The word must have evolved in this manner: to look at the stars; to observe closely; to view attentively; to fix the mind upon; to think about.

Newark: Where do we get the word comest?

Answer: It is from the Greek koman, meaning "to wear long hair."

Indianapolis: Will you please give us the origin of the word nightmare? I can see no connection between bad dreams and horses.—D. C.

Answer: You're right as rain. The -mare of nightmare has nothing to do with a horse. It is from the Anglo-Saxon word mara, a dreadful goblin or demon which was supposed to crouch upon a sleeper's chest and cause him to have horrible dreams.

Betty Grable was suspended for eight weeks for refusing to act in a film. We've seen both actors and actresses in some films who should have refused.

Football Talk

By Gordon Martin

I will vow each year that football talk I'll always take in stride, and when arguments are waxing warm, my temper I will hide. I resolve no matter what is said about my college team, I will hold my tongue and let it pass, remaining on the beam. But I find, when certain things are said, I throw my vows away, and I'm once again a partisan with heated things to say.

I will listen to the football talk within my group of chums, and I'm quiet till they say my team is just a bunch of bums. Then I'll go to say politely that they shouldn't go so far, since my alma mater plays her football up to par. But it's then somebody says my team plays all its games will yield, and they hadn't even ought to let my team on the field.

So I promptly pound the table and some snide remarks I which quite often will turn out to be a terrible mistake. In the heat of all this, I listen to their threats, and I'm chump enough to go ahead and take their bets. And when football season leaves us and I've lost my money dear, I vow again I'll not partake of gridiron talk next year.

Giants' Victory Recalls When Times Were Normal

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It is a definite pleasure for the aged and weary, such as me, to see things gradually crawling back into a true perspective, where important problems like baseball come first. I mean, suppose the Russians have touched off another bomb. As this was composed we were more interested in Bums.

We are bound now to be in for a long siege of important trivia, because the reaction to the weighty had to set in. We been thinking so heavy, so global, so doomful, so long that nobody has had much time to relax since the war quit and we started working on it.

heir. Double-doming is not a basic American trait. Baseball we understand.

The reason we went nuts over the Giants' desperate finish is not so much an index to the drama of a sport as it is an index to our deep-seated distaste for intangible troubles beyond the ken of Joe Average. There is no feeling of futurity bound up in baseball, or a serious prize fight, or quail shooting, or even battling with a wife. There is an outcome, good or bad, happy or sad, and this we can handle. Like we handled the Injuns that gave us trouble when the prairie schooners headed west.

Easy to Understand

If you are anything like me you might be well fed with daily bulletins from economists, all of whom seem to be named Leon, and psychiatrists, and what passes for statesmen, and direful hints of mechanized murder on the grandest scale. Yet it is possible for a steady reader of the news to memorize, almost word for word, what the tax people will say, and what the politicians will say, and what the generals will say. What they say may be full of portent, but the portent eventually dies a dreadful death from dullness.

When all work stopped here yesterday, as the Giants rassed with the Brooklyn in the pennant playoff, this is a thing that you and I could understand. Bobby Thomson bango one into the seats in the ninth and nobody could veto it or overrule it on a delicate technicality of parliamentary law. The ending was happy, from a sporting standpoint, even to the most rabid Brooklyn Aficionado, because the Jints earned it and the Brooks didn't deserve it and everybody knew it.

But the infatuation of the public with such a minor thing of importance had nothing to do with the actual contest. I believe that we are merely compensating now, for all the rough celebration we have been let in for lately.

Like Normal Times

You cannot punish a people indefinitely with the load of solving everything, everywhere, and you cannot say that one sector of man shall lug the load of strange folks' burdens. Not matter what the implied importance of the happiness of the billion Chinese or the downtrodden Indian peasant or the Middle Eastern serf who lives where the oil grows, the implication dulle when we are constantly faced with the necessity of coping with a thing you can't see or deal with directly. This goes even for the horrid threat of the atom, because most of us can't add a column of figures and trigonometry is a mire of mystery and we couldn't crack an atom with a hammer and chisel.

Insofar as the front pages are concerned, for the last few days there was no one world that didn't have the World Series tacked onto it. We went hog-wild over a prize fight, and even the back-yard brawling of a couple of Hollywood hams was dignified by serious attention. This devotion to the simple trivia sounds a lot more like we used to be, when the nation was healthy, than our recent role of solvers of the world's weighty woes. I realize that this is treasonous to the self-assumed role of salvationists we have assumed, but I don't care. Away with the Russians, adieu to the atom, and let the Baluchistanian Babu look after his own headaches. Peace, bab!

Linwood I. Noyes Receives Award

Minnesota U. Honors Ironwood Publisher

CHICAGO—Linwood I. Noyes, publisher of the Ironwood (Mich.) Daily Globe, was named today as this year's winner of the annual Minnesota award for distinguished service in journalism.

Announcement of the award, given annually by the University of Minnesota school of journalism, was made through the Inland Daily Press Association by Dr. Ralph D. Casey, the school's director. Award recipients are selected by the journalism faculty from nominations made by the Inland membership.

Mr. Noyes will receive the award medallion and certificate at the Inland annual meeting in Chicago, Oct. 16.

Mr. Noyes held the Inland presidency in 1935 and was the first publisher of a small, non-metropolitan daily ever to be named head of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, holding office from 1943 to 1945.

Under his leadership his newspaper has worked for the improvement of Ironwood and other communities it serves in the iron mining and lumbering region of the upper Michigan peninsula, the award jury reported. Among the paper's special interests have been agricultural advancement, better roads and schools, and improved community health and local government.

"Distinguished careers, rather than single achievement of a spectacular nature in journalism and civic affairs are the basis for choosing the award winners," said Dr. Casey. "Eligible journalists are those who have achieved the status of leadership in community, state and nation in the field of journalism, and who have exercised civic leadership in their own local communities."

Besides publishing the Ironwood daily, Mr. Noyes serves as president of the Marinette (Wis.) Eagle-Star and secretary of the Marshfield (Wis.) News-Herald.

Earlier winners of the award were the late Emanuel P. Adler, publisher of the Davenport (Iowa) Times; Stuart W. Perry, publisher, the Adrian (Mich.) Daily Telegram; Tom H. Keene, editor of the Elkhart (Ind.) Truth; JS Gray, editor and publisher of the Monroe (Mich.) Evening News; and Harry J. Grant, chairman of the board of the Milwaukee (Wis.) Journal.

Perkins Aid Meeting
PERKINS—The Ladies' Aid of Bethany Lutheran church of Perkins met for a social afternoon Wednesday, October 3, with 45 members and friends, including a large group of Calvary Aid of Rapid River in attendance.

The Scripture reading a prayer and a short reading were given by Mrs. Norman Aasen. Several hymns were sung by the group with Mrs. Ed Hall of Rock at the piano. Other numbers were songs by Mrs. Peter Nelson and Mrs. Ethel Anderson; song by a group of Sunday school students, Evora Stevenson, Barbara Bannister, Beverly and Sandra Soderstrom, Judy Aasen and Janice Anderson; a piano number by Evora Stevenson and the closing prayer by the Rev. Wilbur Johnson of Rapid River.

A potluck lunch was served buffet style.

Plans were made for a bake sale to be held at Norden's Grocery at Perkins Friday, October 12, beginning at one o'clock. Mrs. Henry Soderstrom will be in charge of the sale.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 17, at 2 at the church with Mrs. Ethel Anderson, hostess.

You Get MORE for Your Household Dollar BECAUSE OF ADVERTISING

Because Advertising

... brings you news about better products you need
... tells you where to get what you want when you want it
... makes lower prices possible through mass production and mass selling

Yet Picture how little all this costs

For instance, advertising a big-name brand of cigarettes costs less than 1/16¢ a pack. Any other method of selling would cost the manufacturer more and therefore raise the price. Otherwise he wouldn't use advertising.

ground for the dining room set—especially if your house is so located that there is a beautiful natural view to be seen through this window or if you plant a lovely garden that can be enjoyed from inside as well as from outside your home.

Linen Drawers

Build storage drawers for table linen under the china closet in the right front corner of the room and then you won't have to go dashing over to the regular linen closet each time you want to change the table linen. Reached through the French door in the right wall of the dining room, the attached porch, or breezeway, measures 14 feet by 10 feet.

If it is glassed or screened in, this porch can serve as a summer dining room or as a cooler, more comfortable living room where you, your family and your friends can relax and enjoy many a pleasant afternoon or evening during the warmer weather.

The well-planned, completely modern kitchen is reached through a door in the left wall of the dining room. Designed to make the kitchen tasks as easy and pleasant as possible, the kitchen still contains ample room for Sis, Junior or Pop to help you out with the dishes or meal making.

room that separates these two first floor bedrooms.

Opening off the right of the entry hall, the living room is the largest room in "The Liberty"; it measures 16 feet square. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the left wall combine to make this large room very pleasant. Built-in bookshelves along the left wall between the fireplace and the back wall, and a desk also against this wall, in the center of the line of shelves, transforms this section of the room into a library-study.

Also well lighted and ventilated, the dining room is 11 feet by 10 feet in dimensions. The large picture window, flanked by the smaller windows in the back wall forms a charming back-

Simple in exterior design, "The Liberty" relies for extra decorative charms upon such details as blinds at the windows and front door, the old fashioned lanterns at either side of this doorway and the brass door knocker. The cut stone front and three windowed bay are the two most attractive and interesting architectural features of the house exterior.

The front entrance is located about in the center of the house and opens on an entry hall. There is a coat closet in the left wall of this hallway for the convenience of both your friends and your family. To make it an easy matter to reach any room in the house without going through the living room, the entry hall leads into another hallway that connects with all the rooms on the first floor of "The Liberty."

Well Placed Windows
Both first floor bedrooms measure 13 feet by 12 feet and are located in the left wing of the house. In these bedrooms, as throughout the rest of the house, the windows are placed for best light, best air and best appearance. Large closets provide

Social Situations

You are staying at a small resort.

WRONG: Speak only to those to whom you have been introduced.

RIGHT: At least offer some word of greeting when you meet another guest on a path or find yourself seated near another person. A pleasant "Good morning" is enough to keep others from thinking you are high-hat.

Elaine M. Farah And Fred Saykly Wed In Green Bay

A gown of candle glow satin was worn by Miss Elaine Margaret Farah, daughter of Mrs. Selma Farah of Green Bay for her wedding this morning to Fred Joseph Saykly of Escanaba.

The vows were repeated in a double ring ceremony before the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry C. Head who solemnized the nuptial high mass at 10 at St. Patrick's church in Green Bay. Soloists of the wedding mass were Mrs. William Timken of Milwaukee, the former Lenore Herro, a cousin of the bride, who sang the "Ave Maria" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and Miss Clair Furton of Escanaba who sang "Panis Angelicus." "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and "Veni Amor Jesu." Mrs. J. Whitney was organist. Autumn flowers formed the altar decoration.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a yoke of nylon net, long pointed sleeves, and a fitted bodice of Venetian lace over satin with a full skirt. A center back panel of pleated lace fanned into a long cathedral train. Her veil of French illusion was held in place by a lace halo with insertions of tiny seed pearls. She carried a flowing cascade bouquet of white baby orchids and stephanotis.

Identical Gowns

Preceding her down the white carpeted aisle where she was given in marriage by her brother, Fred Farah, were Mrs. Fred Farah, who was matron of honor, Miss Mary Ellen Yoniss of Green Bay and Miss Margaret Saykly and Miss Louise Saykly of Escanaba, who were bridesmaids, and Miss Jacqueline Farah, Green Bay, who was the junior bridesmaid. The matron of honor and junior bridesmaid were in antique gold and the three bridesmaids in imperial green, their identical gowns styled with portrait necklines, short sleeves, tight bodices and full skirts. Their hats, braided into a halo, and their long gloves were of matching velvet. The matron of honor and junior bridesmaid carried green tinted carnations and tulle roses in a cascade bouquet and the bridesmaids carried cascades of gold tinted carnations and tulle roses.

Alfred Serogy of DePere, Wis., was best man for the son of Mrs. Mary Saykly, and ushers were George Herro and Edward Saykly of Escanaba and James Yoniss and Paul Farah of Green Bay. Assisting ushers were Don Farah and Robert Saykly.

Money moon in South
Mrs. Farah wore a slate grey crepe dress beaded with pearls around the yoke and peplum and a corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Saykly was in teal blue and her corsage was of similar flowers.

The wedding breakfast for members of the bridal party was served at the bride's home. A dinner for 100 guests was served at Pampin Park Pavilion at 1 p. m., and a reception for 500 guests is to follow at 3 with a buffet supper at 6.

Mr. Saykly and his bride will have a six weeks' honeymoon motoring through the southern states and Old Mexico. Their home will be in Escanaba at 214 North 14th street. For going-away the bride selected a suit of grey gabardine with black velvet accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Out-of-Town Guests
The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy for Girls. Mr. Saykly, an Escanaba high school graduate, is manager of Saykly's Confectionery.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. T. Essy and Mrs. Lillie Kouri of Des Moines, Ia.; Phil George, George Farah and Mrs. B. Kouri of Akron, O.; Mrs. D. Scoff and daughters of Toledo; Miss Dorothy Bestros, Dr. and Mrs. D. Folsom, Mr. and Mrs. William Timken and Miss D. Hemmelsboch, Milwaukee; Mrs. Marie Kemppinen, Fred and Larry Kirkish, Mrs. Royal Borth and Charles Karam of Houghton; Mrs. Tom Arbagey of Chicago; Mrs. Emily Herro and Mrs. Lee Shaff of Milwaukee; Mrs. Elias Caraboolad of Cleveland; Miss June Bosonius, Sault Ste. Marie; Ned Kirkish of Ishpeming; David Mohamad, Lansing; Mrs. Mary Saykly, Misses Josephine, Margaret and Louise Saykly, Edward Saykly, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mayville, Mr. and Mrs. John Schiska, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kobasic, Mr. and Mrs. George Saykly and family, William Arbagey, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Herro and Lynette, Mrs. Sam Frenn and Ann, Mr. and Mrs. George Herro, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Derouin, Fred Weissert, Louis Frenn, James Frenn, Mr. and Mrs. Don Feller, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Curran, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Belanger, Dorothy Rodgers, Clair Furton, Mr. and Mrs. William Perron, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Sovey, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blau, Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayville, Escanaba and Dr. and Mrs. Nathan J. Frenn, Bark River.

Pressure saucepan processing times for non-acid vegetables like corn, beans, peas and greens are 20 minutes longer than those used when foods are processed in a large canner. This is because pressure comes up and goes down so much more rapidly in the smaller pressure pan, Michigan State College extension specialists say.

Veteran Woman Photographer Will Be 90 Tomorrow

MACOMB, Ill. — (P)—A spry old lady who believes she is the nation's oldest active photographer will be 90 years old tomorrow.

Mrs. Laura B. Gaites, who has been a photographer for 69 years, was asked if she planned to retire.

"Oh, my no!" she snapped quickly. She says that during her 69 years as a photographer she has taken an average of 500 children pictures a year, or a total of about 34,500. She also has taken many 50th wedding anniversary pictures of couples whose wedding pictures she made.

She recently photographed a husband and wife on their 63rd wedding anniversary. She also had taken their wedding picture.

Mrs. Gaites is in good health. She works with her daughter, Bessie, and her grandson's widow, Mrs. Florence Gaites.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

by Sue Donimus
WHAT'S the occasion? No matter what it is, you'll find it hard to stump the Photo Art Shop on a greeting card for the big event. Their Hallmark and Rust Craft cards are designed to please the fussy card sender. That's why I stay stop in at the Photo Art occasionally—and I do mean every time an occasion demands a card of merit.

MY desk has the wiggles—My chair has the shakes—My kids get the giggles—'Cause everything breaks. To me it's not funny—But Ted's Fix-It Shop is surely a honey—He'll soon call a stop! You'll find his work heaven! Just give Ted a ring—(It's Four-seven-seven); He'll fix anything!

I LIKE the classified ad that reads: "Cat wanted for light mousework." Not in the least suggesting that housewives are catfish, but aren't we all looking for light housework? After listening to a multitude of women complaining about washing clothes this rainy week, I've decided the really smart girls are the ones who ship the whole shebang over to the Escanaba Steam Laundry. It's the cat's eye-brows the way they send those towels back so fluffy. Remember there's an economy pack that washes the shirts sparkling clean ready for your own ironing! I'm not kidding when I say—call the ESL today!

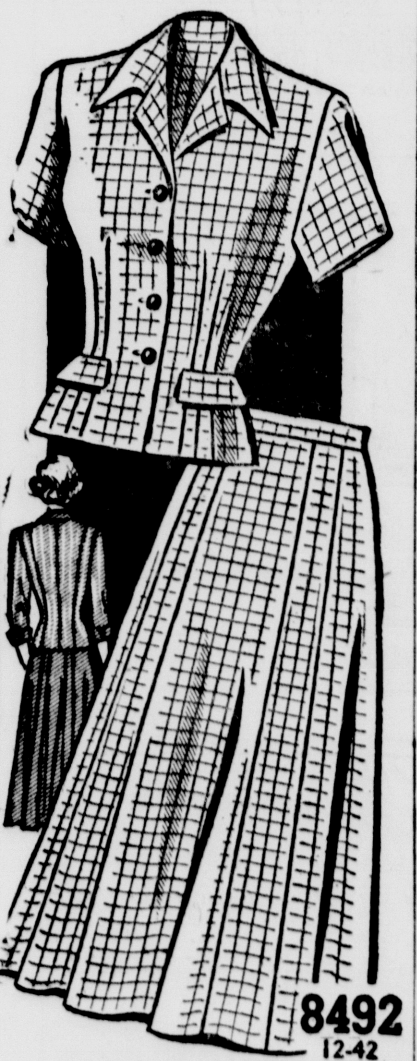

I THINK it was Charley McCarthy who said his tooth was driving him to extraction. With me it's my sweet tooth that drives me to distraction every time I pass Vagn's Bakery Bar! Right now Vagn's busy plotting all sorts of goodies for the Halloween season, and mighty good they sound. There will be special Halloween cookies, sumptuous pumpkin pies, and even pumpkin cake—a fragrant spice cake that's different and delicious. So be sure to stop at Vagn's Bakery Bar for all the goodies you'll need for your Halloween entertaining. No tricks—all treats—at Vagn's!

WHEN they asked her to name a great time saver, the girl answered, "Love at first sight!" ... That's what it is all right at the Office Service Company when you see the early display of Christmas cards. You'll love the new cards at first sight, and it will save you so much shopping time to decide right off on the cards you want this year. This is one item you can check off the shopping list early by stopping in to see the unusually large selection of picturesque, religious, humorous, homespun or personalized cards at the Office Service Company. Love—it's in the cards for you at OSCO!

"HOW long was your last cook with you?" "She was never with us, she was against us from the start!" Designed to inspire the cook (and I suspect that's you) to things really ethereal are the dainty tea and coffee sets at Edna's Gift Shop! Fashioned of Hall China, the sets come in Buttercup yellow or Blue Bell blue. The set includes four plates that have small indentations at one side for the cup, four very graceful cups, tea or coffee pot, and creamer and sugar. Both sets have a fine gold trim and tiny hand painted flowers. From Edna's—and I promise they'll set up any tea time!

IN a hospital for Marines, one nurse warned another: "These are the dangerous cases—they're almost well!" Yes, girls, here come the Marines—in the person of John Wayne and Robert Ryan. It's a true life story of the Marine Corps in action—and technical— "Flying Leathernecks". John Wayne plays the part of the commander with Robert Ryan as his executive officer. The friction between the two men forms the plot for a really stirring story. Janis Carter is the woman who waits. The picture plays at the Delft Theater Sun, Mon., and Tues. Don't you be the woman who waits—see "Flying Leathernecks" right soon!

THE congregation had gathered to pray for rain, and the Negro preacher said, "It has just one question to ask—brothers and sisters, where are your umbrellas?" Well, we have the rain—and I have just one question to ask—brothers and sisters—where is your Doorhood? Hastings Alumni-Shield Doorhoods are tailor-made for any door. They'll protect the entrance to your home from rain, sleet and snow. Add so much to the appearance of your home, too. Phone Erickson Millwork in Escanaba about these rust-proof, permanently installed Doorhoods. Hope you have sense enuf to come in out of the rain under an Alumni-Shield Doorhood!

Skip Without Paying For Gas; Two Youths Arrested By Police

Last Friday evening, two youths drove into the gas pumps at the Masonville store, obtained some gasoline and then sped away without paying for it.

What was believed to be the license number of the auto was obtained by the station operator, but a check of registration records revealed that the number given belonged to a different model and make auto.

Night Police Officer Jim Norrick spotted an auto answering the description of the car used by the young men and the license jibed except for a different letter.

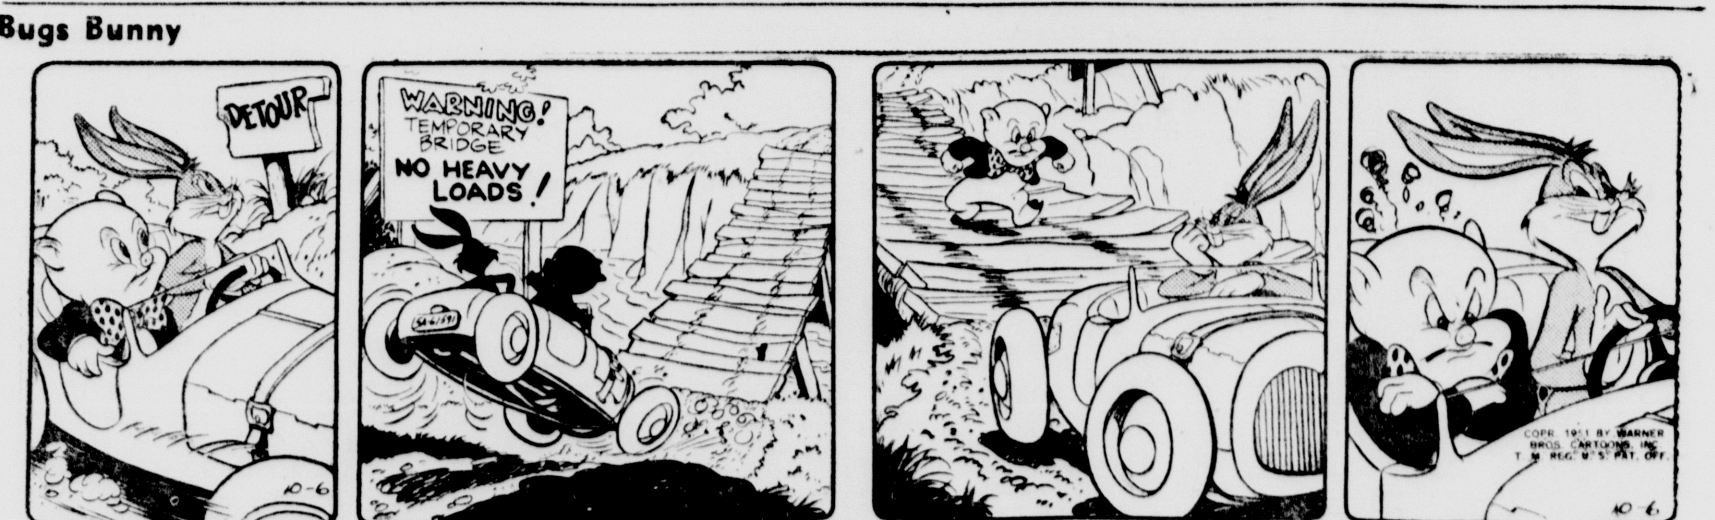

He picked up the two men and after questioning at the state police post they admitted having driven away without paying. Both are minors, 16 years of age, so the case is being turned over to the juvenile judge.

To Announce Yule Concert

Choral Club Rehearses Monday

A concert selection for the Christmas season is expected to be announced at the second rehearsal of the Manistique Choral club, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the high school auditorium, it is announced.

Members of the club have been asked to make concert suggestions which were to be turned in this weekend. Selection of the Christmas program, it is reported, will be based on these suggestions.

Last year the club presented excerpts from Handel's "Messiah" to a capacity crowd in the auditorium.

The rehearsal will start promptly at 7:30 and will continue for one hour under the direction of Mrs. James H. Fyvie.

Every member is requested to be present, and others interested in singing, whether or not they have sung previously with organized groups, are invited to attend.

Particularly needed to make up a balanced chorus are more male voices. Any man who likes to sing is especially urged to attend the rehearsal Monday evening.

Grid Club To Be Organized

Meeting Slated Monday Evening

Organization of a "quarterback club" is scheduled to take place at a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the high school, it is announced.

Purpose of the club is to stimulate public interest in high school football. All interested sports fans, particularly the parents of Emerald players, are invited to be present.

A speaker will be on the program, it is reported. Election of officers also will take place.

Lunch consisting of donuts and coffee will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mott Bridge Is Damaged Thursday By Gravel Truck

A truck loaded with gravel broke through the Mott bridge on the West Branch of the Manistique river Thursday morning, it is reported.

Center stringers and planking were smashed, and crossing of the bridge will be impossible until it is repaired.

Schoolcraft county road commission officials reported yesterday that they did not know when they could send a crew to repair the structure.

The West Branch road is extensively used during the small game and deer hunting seasons. Several hunting camps owned by Manistique people are located along the road north of the Mott crossing.

Briefs Told

Movie—There will be a two hour movie and program at the VFW club rooms Monday, October 8, at 8:30 p. m. for the VFW post, auxiliary and guests.

Hiawatha PTA—The Hiawatha PTA will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 10, at the Manistique Heights school. A special program has been arranged and movies will be shown. Lunch will be served later by the committee.

Team Sets Up New Horse Pull Record At Hillsdale Fair

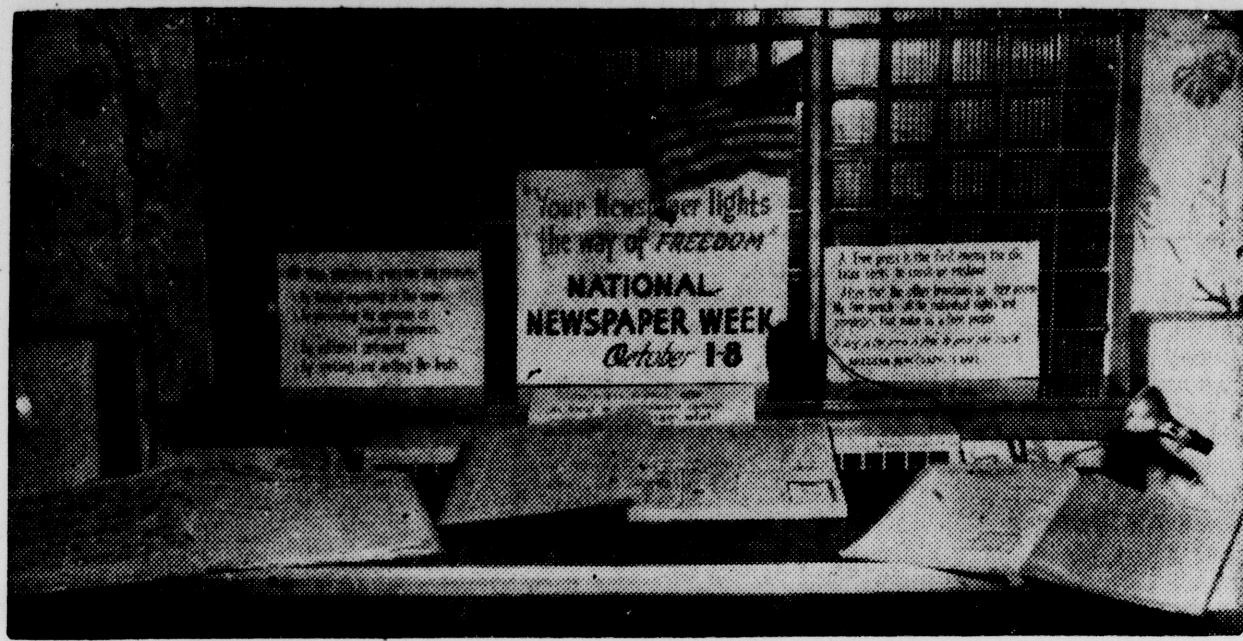

HILLSDALE, Mich. —(AP)—A team of horses pulled a 4,300-pound load—only 70 pounds under their own total weight—a distance of 17 feet in winning the national horse pulling contest here yesterday.

The team owned by R. F. Oakleaf of Tiffin, O., was made up of a 2,145-pound chestnut and a 2,225-pound blond.

The world record for pulling by heavyweight horses is 4,275 pounds at 27 feet. It was set here in 1950 by a team owned by Fowler brothers of Reading, Mich.

A team of sorrels, owned by Fowler Brothers, won second by pulling 4,300 pounds 16 feet 11 inches.

Teams from 12 states competed in the contest before a crowd of 2,000 at the Hillsdale county fair grounds.

Rosetta Stone May Unlock Secrets Of Medes And Persians

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR, Mich. —(AP)—A University of Michigan scientist, home from a six-months expedition into the mountains of Northern Iran and Iraq, has a key that may unlock some of the secrets of the Medes and Persians.

At a news conference Prof. George G. Cameron called his key a "New Rosetta Stone." It is the first perfect copy of a bi-lingual inscription carved about 2,850 years ago on a stone monument in mountainous country now inhabited by the Kurds.

Key to Dead Language
On one side of the stone inscription is in Assyrian, a language that can be translated. On the other side is an inscription in the language of the Urartu people about whom very little is known. The language of the Urartu has never been broken down.

Prof. Cameron is certain, however, that the inscription in Urartu says the same thing that is inscribed in Assyrian on the other side. For that reason, he figures archaeologists now have a key to break down the unknown language.

That's why he calls it a "New

First Baptists To Have Rally Program On Sunday Morning

County Board Meets Monday

Setting Budget Main Business

Adoption of a permanent budget for the coming fiscal year will feature a regular meeting of the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors Monday, it is reported by G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk. The session will convene at 10 a. m.

A tentative budget of $119,000 compiled last spring was reviewed by the board's budget committee Thursday evening.

It was reported that the final budget can be no higher than $97,180, based on present county millage and valuation.

Study of the county unit, discussion of coal bids and other routine business also are on the meeting agenda.

William W. Davidson, of Doyle township, will preside at the meeting.

WBA Meeting

The Women's Benefit association met recently at the home of Mrs. Clarence Thorell, Garden avenue. Mrs. John M. Hewitt was assisting hostess.

During the business session the group voted to sponsor Donald Hamill as a delegate to the Upper Peninsula Older Boys' Conference; appointed a year book committee composed of Mrs. Fred Hastings, Mrs. Don Hastings and Mrs. William Hamill; and named Mrs. Vilas Young to have charge of the poem contest at the next meeting on Nov. 6.

Members are requested to have their poems by this meeting, and also to bring a roll of carpet rags to the session so that work can be started on the making of carpets.

Following the business meeting canasta was played, with prizes going to Mrs. Vilas Young and Mrs. Norman Linden. Mrs. Linden also received the special award.

Lunch was served later.

St. Jude's Circle

Mrs. Theron Osterhout was assisting hostess at the regular meeting of St. Jude's circle this week, held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fissette, Chippewa avenue.

Cards were played, with first in 500 going to Mrs. Gauthier and first in canasta to Mrs. Ernest Courtnay. Mrs. Eva Sangraw was awarded the guest prize.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 6 at the home of Mrs. Arthur

Players' share of the opening world series gate Thursday came to $158,649. Attendance was 65,673 paid with total receipts of $311,077. Incidentally, the Giants and Dodgers did not share in the gates of their playoff games. And the batting and pitching performances in the playoff series ARE included in final averages for the season.

Mike Shatusky, backfield ace with the Menominee-Marquette Hornets, is the second high scorer in the Wisconsin State Football league. The former Maroon speed demon has scored four touchdowns and kicked two extra points for a total of 26.

The Sam Costello Memorial trophy will be presented to the winner of the Menominee-Iron Mountain football game at Menominee tonight. The trophy has been donated by the Maroon class of 1948 in honor of Costello who was killed in a plane crash in the Philippines last winter. He was a varsity grid center in 1946-47. As a side-light, Iron Mountain has not won a game from Menominee since 1946, when the Mountaineers squeezed out a 7-6 victory.

Michigan State's Spartans are in the midst of some sort of a collegiate defensive record. In three consecutive games, the 1950 finale against Pitt, and the opening 1951 games against Oregon State and University of Michigan, the Spartans gave up only 27 net yards rushing. That's a meager average of nine yards per game.

From Marquette comes the astounding report that Donald Fontana correctly predicted the exact position of finish for all teams in the American and National baseball leagues. Fontana made his selections on April 1 and several weeks ago gave a copy to Ken Lowe, Marquette Mining Journal sports writer. Lowe reports that the odds against such a feat are 1,625,702,400 to 1.

Lopat Is Proud Of Run-Scoring Single

NEW YORK — (AP)—When Ed Lopat's grand-children begin asking him about the time he played in the 1951 world series, the stocky New York southpaw probably will start:

"Well, let me tell you about that single to center—"

Lopat considers his pitching exploits secondary to his blow in the eighth inning yesterday that scored the final run in the Yankees' 3-1 victory over the Giants.

The 33-year-old lefty said he regarded it as "the big one."

"If we hadn't got it the Giants would have been bunting on us in the ninth and might have tied the score," he added.

St. Joe Eyes Win Over Norway Vikings In Game Here Tonight

A crippled St. Joe grid team will be looking for a Norway scalp tonight at 8 o'clock at Memorial field.

"The boys know this will be our big chance to cash in," Coach Tom St. Germain said, "and they are tuned for an all-out effort."

The St. Joe coach was referring to Norway's long-time grid superiority over the Trojans. St. Joe is working on a .500 percentage to date with two wins and two losses, and a win over Norway would put them on the credit side of the ledger.

Minus Martineau, Pepin The Trojans will go into action without a pair of rugged regulars. Fullback John Martineau is out with painful charley horses in both legs and Guard Harlon Pepin is being held out because of a head bump which knocked him out in the Lourdes game last weekend.

Replacing Pepin in the line will be Bob Bergeon. Dan Marsieck will step into Martineau's shoes at full.

Remainder of the St. Joe lineup will be intact with Bob Sendenburgh and Bill Mayednich at ends, Bob Pepin and John Jungles at tackles, Bergeon and Jim Cashin at guards, Tom Brien at center, Bill Baker at quarterback, Pete Qutches and Jim Gravelle at halfbacks and Marsieck at fullback.

Tom Gasman and Leon Mileski will operate with the regulars on defense.

Big Fullback Coach Allan Ronberg's Vikings come here with one of their most unimpressive records in years. The Vikes won their opening game from Crystal Falls by a respectable 25-6 score and then lost its next four strats to Stambaugh, Iron River, Escanaba and Iron Mountain.

In spite of their poor won-lost record, the Vikings have one of the better fullbacks in the U. P. in the form of Vic Bergwall. St. Joe practice sessions have been aimed at stopping the big ramblers.

Other probable Norway starters will be Sunstrom and Gendron at ends, Carlson and Jansen at tackles, E. Mattia and Menard at guards, Griffith at center, Donaid Mattia, Kelly, Vivio in the backfield.

Officials will be Ray Ranguette and team from Manistique.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP)—Michigan's first junior varsity football season in three years is off to a good start with a 26 to 21 victory over Marquette's JV's.

The Wolverine reserves led most of the way in Friday's game with freshman fullback Fred Bauer scoring two touchdowns and others being contributed by end Bob Topp and fullback Dick Balzhiser.

The sparkling run of the day, however, was turned in by Marquette's scabback Joe Bassford, who scampered 75 yards to score in the fourth period.

Baer's two tallies were on short line plunges. Topp countered on an eight-yard pass from Don Evans and Balzhiser scored on another line buck.

Marquette's other two TD's were on 23 and 31-yard passes from Jack Roberts to end George Broom.

Pep-Saddler Fights End; Both Suspended

NEW YORK — (AP)—The series of featherweight championship bouts between Willie Pep and titleholder Sandy Saddler apparently reached the end of the line today.

Neither of the pair, who engaged in a pier six brawl in the Polo grounds on Sept. 26 will be seen in New York state for a long while if Bob Christenberry, the new athletic commissioner of New York state, has his way.

Christenberry yesterday revoked Pep's license and suspended Saddler indefinitely. He told the two fighters they had "tended to destroy the reputation of boxing and bring the game into disrepute."

In the course of "violating every rule in the book," as Christenberry put it, Pep and Saddler thumbed, butted and in general performed like a couple of wrestlers.

Frank Smith, ace relief pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, is the son of a blacksmith. His father operates a blacksmith shop in Stone Mills, N. Y.

Escanaba Flattens Rugged Kingsford Team 26 To 0

The Escanaba Eskymos shocked a stubborn Kingsford eleven with a 26-0 defeat last night in a mist-shrouded game under the Flivver lights.

Coach Jim Rouman's Eskys roared back from their disappointing loss to Menominee Saturday with a stunning display of power and a crushing line that left Kingsford a battered wreck after four quarters of the toughest football seen this season.

In handing the Flivvers their worst loss in a hard luck season, Escanaba unwrapped its best performance of the year. The Eskymos ran and passed to perfection and the defensive line was never deterred to a threatening degree.

Bartley Stars
Fullback Cap Bartley electrified

the chilled crowd with a sensational running game. The burly back ramblled to three of the four Escanaba touchdowns, scoring on a one-yard plunge, a 60-yard sprint and on a pass from Quarterback Paul Baldwin that covered 53 yards.

Acting captain for the game, Bartley led all players on the ground with 118 points. Seven Eskymo ball carriers lugged the leather 271 yards to 87 for the Kingsford backs.

Baldwin was sharp in the quarterback role. He completed seven of 15 passes for 188 yards, intercepted one of the few Kingsford passes, scored the first Eskymo touchdown on a two-yard sneak and carried the ball 51 yards in all.

Probably the most sensational play in a thrill-filled game was End Paul Gunderman's 56-yard kickoff return which opened the second half. The lanky safety man received on the nine-yard line and skirted the sideline in his long ramble which was halted by Frank d'Arras on the Kingsford 35.

Flivv March Halted
Escanaba halted a Kingsford scoring threat in the first period after the Flivvers drove 24 yards to the Eskymo 7. Escanaba registered first in the second period, scored twice more in the third and struck again in the fourth.

The game opened with Kingsford receiving with the wind. Three ground plays picked up seven yards and the Flivvs booted to the Escanaba 20. Halfback Dick Carlson cut into the line for four yards and Half Tom Smith fumbled on the next play, Harris recovering for Kingsford on the 31.

Quarterback Turk passed to Halfback Joe Delden for one yard and three ground plays moved the ball to the Escanaba 16. The Flivv attack was stalled by a hard-charging Eskey line and the Roumanmen took over on the seven.

Bartley and Baldwin carried out to the 26 and Baldwin hit Gunderman with a pass good for 30 yards, the Eskymo left end tipping the ball out of a defender's hands to make the catch.

First Touchdown
A fourth-down gamble produced a first on the Kingsford 30. Carlson's fumble was recovered by Delden on the 24. Kingsford punted as the second period opened, Escanaba taking over on their own 44.

Smith carried five yards, Baldwin missed Gunderman with a pass then hit the glue-fingered end with a four-yard toss. Bartley charged the necessary yard for a first down. Baldwin heaved a 42-yard pass to End Jojo Johnston who was tackled on the Kingsford seven. Bartley moved the ball to the two from where Baldwin plunged over. The pass from center was low on the try for extra point and Escanaba led 6-0.

On the following kickoff, Dick Peterson booted the ball to the Kingsford nine, where Cunningham fumbled and fell on the pigskin. The Flivvs kicked out to the 30. An Eskey drive was set back by a 15-yard penalty for an ineligible pass receiver and Kingsford took over on downs on the 22. Kingsford was forced to punt to the Escanaba 44.

Baldwin hit Bartley with a screen pass that produced 13 yards but his next aerial was intercepted by d'Arras on the 25 and returned to the 38. The half ended seconds later.

Long Kickoff Return
Gunderman took the second half kickoff 56 yards to the Kingsford 35. Bartley blasted the line for eight and Carlson spun 12 yards to the 16. Gunderman shot around end for 15 yards and Bartley charged through center for the TD. Johnston's kick was wide, score 12-0.

Kingsford again failed to gain on the ground and punted to Gunderman on the 45. Carlson picked up two yards in two tries and Baldwin shot a flat pass to Bartley who shared the ball on the 50, cut behind the Kingsford secondary and sped the remaining distance to the Kingsford goal line. Johnston passed to Gunderman to make the score 19-0.

Kingsford received on the 35 and Delden shot 15 yards to midfield on the first play. With Wecker and Bolm making key tackles, the Flivvs were stalled and punted to Gunderman on the 10. He returned to the 20 and Escanaba marched to the Kingsford 12 yard line. Bartley ploughed to the one, but the Eskys lost 15 yards for holding. A fourth down pass from Baldwin to Johnston was blocked by Delden on the goal line.

60-Yard Touchdown
Kingsford moved the ball out to the 40 before punting 20 yards to the Escanaba 40. On the first play from scrimmage, Bartley exploded through the line, spun out of the grasp of a Kingsford tackler and raced d'Arras and Delden toward the goal line. The Eskey fullback was overtaken by d'Arras on the 10, and a bone-jarring tackle shook the ball out of his arms. Bartley scrambled to his feet and overtook the bounding pigskin in the end zone to score the final TD. Johnston's kick made it 26-0.

Kingsford punted again and Baldwin fumbled on the 50, with Spanton recovering for Kingsford. Baldwin intercepted Turk's pass on the Escanaba 40 and Coach Rouman emptied his bench.

The Eskey reserves, with Tom Bourke carrying most of the mail, drove deep into Kingsford territory before losing possession on a fumble. Escanaba regained possession on the next and final play when Fred Paulson intercepted a Turk pass.

The Escanaba junior varsity made a day of it by coping a 27-12 verdict in the preliminary played in the afternoon.

Benner Wins Third Pistol Championship

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—Huelet Benner of Ft. Knox, Ky., won the national pistol championship for the third straight year yesterday.

The 33-year-old marksman compiled a score of 887 with a .22 caliber pistol, 871 with a .38 caliber, and 868 with .45 automatic for a total score of 2626 points out of a possible 2700.

Second was ex-national champion Harry Reeves of Detroit with 2,614. Walter Devine of Parris Island, S. C. was third with 2,599.

Gloria Jacobs Norton, of Woodland, Calif., took the national women's title with a score of 2,497.

During his tenure with the New York football Giants, end Bill Swiacki caught 106 passes of the 217 completed by the Giants. Swiacki scored 17 touchdowns. Now he is with the Detroit Lions.

The highest scoring game in the history of the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas on New Year's Day was Texas win over Missouri, 40-27, in 1946.

Irish Grid Rating Jumps With 40 To 6 Victory At Detroit

DETROIT — (AP)—Notre Dame's gridiron stock shot upward again today on the strength of the second straight top-sided victory over the resurgant Irish.

The question mark that connotation to hang over the green-shirted Irish after they smothered Indiana 48-6 a week ago was partially removed by a 40-6 trouncing of the University of Detroit last night.

A capacity crowd of 52,371 watched the rout in Briggs stadium. It was Notre Dame's first night game in history.

Vets Sparkle
It was the veterans from last year's mediocre Notre Dame squad that ruined the outclassed Detroiters just as Coach Frank Leahy was coming up with some promising youngsters.

Halfback John Pettibon, a senior who was overshadowed by the great Bob Williams last year, galloped 200 yards for three touchdowns well before the first period was over.

A senior pass combination of John Mazur to Jim Mutscheller accounted for another on a 29-yard shot to give the Irish a 26-0 lead before the underclassmen had a chance to show their stuff.

From the opening kickoff return on which Pettibon streaked 35 yards to score the outcome never was in doubt.

Less than eight minutes later Pettibon took a handoff from halfback Bill Barrett on a punt return and scampered 73 yards for another touchdown. Then he grabbed a pitchout from Mazur, sliced through right tackle, reversed his field and sped 38 yards to score.

The Mazur-to-Mutscheller counter came shortly before the second period ended.

Freshman Scores
In the fourth sophomore John Lattner an intercepted pass 32 yards to score and Ralph Guglielmi, a freshman, tallied from the one.

Minne Mayraides, a sophomore, converted four of his six extra point kicks.

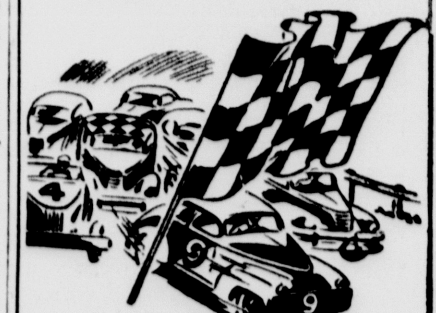

Neil Worden, a sophomore sensation in the Indiana game, came through with gains when yardage was needed but made no spectacular runs.

Unable to gain much through Notre Dame's line, Detroit took to the air to set up its only score. Fullback Bob Lappe plunged the final yard.

Notre Dame used its recently unveiled "I" formation sparingly but to good advantage. Once it produced a 10-yard run and on another occasion a 14-yard pass.

Notre Dame scoring: touchdowns—Pettibon 3, Mutscheller, Lattner, Guglielmi. Conversions—Mayraides 4.

Detroit scoring: touchdown—Lappe.

Yanks Even Series On 3-1 Win Over Giants

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK — (AP)—Back home in the friendly Polo grounds where miracles do happen the underdog New York Giants count on Jim Hearn (17-9) to outpoint Yankee Vic Raschi (21-10) in today's third world series game.

Not that miracles are needed by this daring carefree Giant club that stands all even in games, even after succumbing to Lefty Ed Lopat's steady pitching, 3-1, yesterday at Yankee stadium. Still, the bookmakers quote the Yanks 8 to 5 favorites in the series.

Memories of Wednesday's dramatic pennant clincher in the shadow of Coogan's bluffs still throb in the mind of every Giant. In the chummy old park where they knew their greatest glory, the Giants figure to be an inspired crew.

Irvin Hitting 778
Monte Irvin, hitting 778 and edging up on a record with seven series hits, needs no inspiration. He is well on the way to becoming the '51 hero, win or lose.

The Giants will need a top effort from Hearn, a five-hit winner over Brooklyn in the playoff, opener, to guide them past Raschi in this duel of righthanders.

Hearn's sweeping curve and baffling sinker hogtied the Dodgers bats Monday in one of his most brilliant moments. Now with four days rest the $10,000 waiver bargain of '50 is asked to put the Giants back in command. In 34 starts he went the route 16 times, winning 10 of his 17 from Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Manager Casey Stengel has Raschi, with a full week's rest, primed for a super effort. The big fellow beat Boston in his last two starts as he joined the 20-win club for the third straight year. He's 2-1 in series competition, winning Thompson. Joe DiMaggio, still looking for his first hit, bounced into a double play and Yogi Berra struck out to let Jansen wiggle out with only one run.

Outfielders Out
Each club is minus a regular outfielder going into the three-day stand at the Polo grounds. Right Fielder Don Mueller, injured in the playoff final, won't see any action for the Giants.

Hank Thompson, a converted third baseman batting .000, is taking his place.

Mickey Mantle, the 19-year-old rookie, twisted his right knee yesterday and was carried from the field. X-rays will be taken today to determine the full extent of the injury, believed to be a slightly torn tendon. Stengel doesn't expect to get any more action out of the kid in the series.

It was a strange accident with Mantle, striding toward a fly ball that Joe DiMaggio eventually caught in right center, falling flat on his face when the knee gave away. Apparently he stepped hard in a small hole.

Mantle's surprise drag bunt opening the game was an important factor in yesterday's Yank win over Larry Jansen. Bunting has been a Mantle weakness all season, despite daily morning drills. The practice finally paid off.

When Phil Rizzuto followed with another bunt single that Whitey Lockman threw wild to first, Mantle scooted to third. He scored early on Gil McDougald's blooper to short right in front of George Spencer blow down the next three Yanks to make it 16 in succession before Bobby Brown singled to open the eighth. With Billy Martin running for the slow-footed doctor, Lopat helped nail down his own game with a scoring single to center.

Michigan Faculty Protests Use Of Double Standard For Athletes

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP)—The University of Michigan's literary college faculty is protesting what it claims is a "double-standard" for athletes and other students.

Dean Burton D. Thuma of the literary college, revealed today that about 10 members of his faculty sent a protest to the faculty senate earlier this week.

The protest, he said, grew out of an eligibility grant to football player Ted Topor.

Topor, a junior from East Chicago, Ind., was ruled eligible by the board in control of intercollegiate athletics several weeks ago, although he had received an "E" in an anatomy course during the spring semester.

Eligibility Control
Thuma pointed out that the athletics board has full control over eligibility for sports participation, and requires only that the student involved have no "E" or "incomplete" mark for the previous semester.

Eligibility for other extra-curricular school activities is regulated by the office of student affairs, and a "C" average is required, Dean Thuma said.

The dean said faculty members felt the Topor case "wasn't handled quite the way it should be."

"The main function of a university is education," he added, "and traditionally athletics should not interfere with a student's academic standing."

"It is the general feeling of the faculty that if a man can't compete in athletics and keep class work up there is something wrong."

Dean Thuma said the protest was a general one although brought on by the Topor case.

Ira Smith, registrar and head of the committee in control of athletics, explained that Topor flunked the anatomy course last spring, then went to summer school and took another course because the original one was not offered. He received a "D" in the second course.

Smith admitted the case was "questionable," but insisted that Topor's value to the team had nothing to do with the decision.

Hogs Drop But Pork Still High

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON — (P) — Hog prices have declined nearly 15 per cent since mid-summer, but little of the drop has been passed along to consumers on the price of pork, the agriculture department said today.

A further decline in hog prices was forecast between now and December, a period of seasonally increased marketing. But again there is no indication, the agency said, that there will be any retail price reductions.

Hogs are now bringing farmers an average of slightly less than $20 for 100 pounds. In mid-summer, they brought an average of as high as $22.60. Present prices are nearly $2 below quotations a year ago.

Beef cattle prices, on the other hand, are still holding close to price ceiling levels and are likely to continue to do so, with possible exceptions of a few times this fall when seasonal increases in marketings may cause some temporary declines.

The fact that hog prices have declined and pork prices have remained stationary is reflected in wider margins for slaughterers. Department reports show, for example, that the slaughter margin at Chicago last July averaged about $1 on 100 pounds of hog. That is, the slaughterer sold the pork and pork products from 100 pounds of hog at $1 more than he paid for it.

In the last week of September, the margin had increased to $2.13, the department said.

PTA Meeting
GARDEN—At a well attended meeting held Monday night, Oct. 1, officers were elected and installed as follows: Mrs. Leroy Winter, president; Mrs. Calvin Richard, first vice-president; Roland Boudreau, second vice-president; Mrs. Ulysses Maynard, third vice-president; Victor Borga, secretary; and Jack King, treasurer.

The transportation problem was discussed and agreeably settled. Mrs. Walter Stellwagen was chosen hot lunch chairman. For this project many children are needed for successful operation and those children already signed up are urged to continue throughout the year. A committee of three was appointed by the president to make definite plans for the Halloween carnival in progress of preparation. The problem of curfew was turned over for the time being to the village board and will be discussed further at the next meeting.

Women's Meetings
The Altar society of the St. John Baptist church held the monthly meeting at Marygrove Tuesday night and Fr. Bassett presented a picture on home life after the business session. Cake and coffee were served afterwards by Mrs. William Swaer, Mrs. Alfred LaValle, Mrs. Albin Berg and Mrs. Charles Gauthier.

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. William Winter of Van's Harbor Wednesday night and enjoyed delicious lunch after discussions. Mrs. Paul Lamkey will be hostess for the next meeting Wednesday night, Oct. 17.

Mrs. Stanley Joque, Mrs. Herbert Plante and Mrs. Joseph Des Rocher arranged the party at Marygrove Wednesday night.

Fire
The fire truck was called out Thursday morning to extinguish fire in the home of Mrs. Rokosky, which had been started by lightning.

Briefs
Mrs. Roland Boudreau and daughter Kathleen are visiting with the former's sister, Mrs. Cedric Woodard of Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson and daughter of Gladstone, came Wednesday night to the Charles Winter home, Mr. Thompson leaving the next morning for the M.E.A. meeting at Sault Ste. Marie.

Robert Brody of Detroit was guest Monday and Tuesday of Mrs. Mary McPhee and friends in Fayette.

Mrs. Myron Farley, Mrs. Norval Farley and Mrs. Leroy Winter visited with Mrs. Edward Thompson of Gladstone Tuesday.

Bar Fight Cost Him $224,000 Says Flynn

NASSAU, Bahamas — (P) — A fight in a Nassau bar last March cost screen actor Errol Flynn $224,000, he alleges in a suit filed here yesterday.

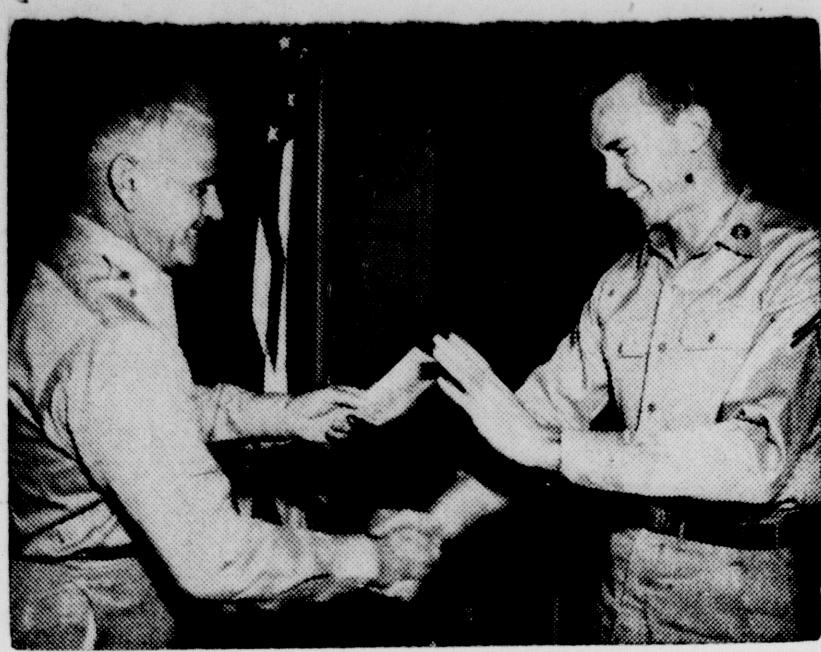

The statement of claim filed with the Bahamas supreme court said Duncan McMartin, wealthy Canadian gold mine owner, struck the movie actor in a bar at the Windsor hotel on March 5.

Flynn was recuperating from a spinal injury at the time, the statement added, and the "vicious blow on the head" aggravated the old injury.

Flynn asked $200,000 for loss of earnings and $24,000 for expenses and damages resulting from the beating.

McMartin's attorneys will file a statement of defense and the case probably will go to trial about the end of the year.

COMPLETES COURSE—Frederick M. Shaw, (right) a native of Escanaba and graduate of Mt. Clemens high school, was honor graduate recently of the twelfth class to complete Army Leadership school at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa.

Cpl. Shaw has been assigned as an instructor in the school, an advanced Army training program, while he awaits orders to the Corps of Engineers Officer Candidate school at Fort Belvoir, Va.

He placed first among 66 graduates of the eight-week course, which until recently was required pre-OCS training.

Cpl. Shaw was drafted at Mt. Clemens October 23, 1950, and was assigned to the 43rd Infantry division at Camp Pickett, Va. After 14 weeks of basic training, he was sent to the 118th Engineer Combat battalion, where he reached his present rank before being assigned to the school here.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Shaw of 617 South Tenth street in Escanaba. He graduated from Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton in June, 1950, and until his induction was attending a sales training program given by the Standard Oil company of Indiana at Green Bay, Wis.

Above Cpl. Frederick M. Shaw is congratulated by Lt. Col. Thomas Ward, commandant of the 5th Infantry Division Leadership School, after being named the honor graduate of his class. (U. S. Army Photo)

Kenosha Sheriff And Council President Named For Bribery

KENOSHA, Wis. — (P) — The Kenosha county sheriff and the Kenosha city council president were indicted by a grand jury yesterday on charges of bribery and attempted bribery yesterday.

A former councilman also was indicted on three counts of accepting and offering payoff money as the 17-member grand jury examined a six-month probe of reported vanity among public officials in the county.

Kenosha county lies against Lake Michigan about halfway between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Arraigned in circuit court were Sheriff Leonard J. Jensen on charges of accepting bribes; Council President Felix Olkives on charges of attempting bribery, and former Councilman Howard G. Coats. Coats figured in testimony before the Kefauver Crime Investigating committee last winter.

Paratroops Bolster French Defenses In Indochina Fighting

SAIGON, Indochina — (P) — The French army announced today French paratroops have been dropped to stiffen the defenses of threatened Nghia Lo, largest town in the Thai federation, 90 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The announcement said French and Foreign Legion paratroops floated down on the besieged valley of Nghia Lo from American C-47's and C-46's and from lumbering German-built Junker transports. They set up a defense line at the mountain pass of Giahlo, 12 miles northwest of Nghia Lo, at the head of the valley.

French army headquarters said French positions in the Thai country—on the border of Red China—were holding fast as the Communist Vietnam fall offensive entered its eighth day.

Offshore Hurricane Misses New England, Swirls Out To Sea

BOSTON — (P) — New Englanders breathed easier today after an offshore hurricane swirled out to sea 150 miles southeast of Nantucket.

Nantucket and Cape Cod, expected to be whipped by gale force winds from the storm's fringe last midnight, received no noticeable effects. "Normal" October winds and light rain prevailed instead, the weather bureau reported.

The district forecaster said early today the storm cleared New England with its center about 150 miles southeast of Nantucket and moved northeastward at 15 to 20 miles per hour.

Navy Asks 49 Million For Test Submarines

WASHINGTON — (P) — A bill authorizing the Navy to spend $49,000,000 for two experimental submarines today awaited President Truman's signature. It was approved by the House yesterday.

The two submarines were authorized in 1947 when their total cost was estimated at $30,000,000. When prices soared in recent years, a new bill had to be voted to approve the higher labor, design and material costs.

The temperature in the earth's interior has been estimated at around 9,000 degrees F.

Gov. Williams Has Trouble With His Liberal Friends

Williams the votes of so many old folks and kept the Republican legislature in a turmoil for two sessions.

Old Folks Scared
The Republicans have been having a dickens of a time trying to convince the public that it passed a sensible law, the Old Age Assistance recovery law.

Williams went right out and nick-named it the "Lien Law," giving the impression that the state was taking a lien on the property of any old person who accepted old age assistance. As a result, the old folks have been badly frightened and the state department of social welfare is still trying to convince the old folks that they won't be hurt unjustly.

The theory behind the passage of the law was this: that many old people have sons and daughters who can and should support them, but refuse to do so because the old folks can be shoved off on the old age assistance rolls.

So the legislature said "we'll fix that."

And it passed a law saying that old folks could get their old age assistance money any time they needed it, but when they died the state could step in and take their estates if estates were going to heirs who had refused to support mom or dad.

Costs Trimmed
In that way, they reasoned, the old folks wouldn't be punished but the selfish heirs would.

And the legislature said also that the estates should not be claimed if the loss of the estate actually would work hardship on the heirs.

Look at what happened. The state has cut about $2,000,000 off its old age assistance costs in four years.

The minute the law passed some 3,000 persons dropped off the rolls, presumably because son and daughter stepped up to care for their parents and be sure of inheriting their property.

The rate of increase in old age assistance cases fell, indicating that another 3,000 persons refused to apply for help because of the recovery provision.

The state has collected $1,500,000 from the estates of persons whose relatives left them to public support.

State welfare director W. J. Maxey says he knows of no cases where application of the law has hurt any deserving persons.

"We have waived our claim to estates in 15 per cent of the cases," Maxey said, "because to seize the estate would work hardship on the heirs. We think it's a fair law."

Apparently Oscar R. Ewing, that old liberal, does too.

How about you, governor?

Mayors Get Two-Day Briefing In Pentagon

WASHINGTON — (P) — More than 100 mayors are expected to get first hand information on the defense program and its problems during a 10-day tour of the Pentagon and military installations Nov. 11-20.

Mayor Lawrence of Pittsburgh, who suggested the program to President Truman recently, talked over final plans with the defense department yesterday.

The Mayors will spend two days in the Pentagon receiving military briefings, and then will visit the Quantico, Va., Marine base, Elgin Air Force base, Fla., Fort Benning, Ga., and Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station.

Letter Without Words Brings On Suicide

ATLANTA, Ga. — (P) — A letter came special delivery yesterday for Arthur F. Kinder, 45-year-old accountant.

City Detective M. W. Blackwell said that shortly after Kinder received the letter from New Smyrna Beach, Fla., he shot himself in the head.

The envelope, said Blackwell, contained a blank sheet of paper—and a wedding ring. It was from Kinder's wife.

Unrest In Morocco
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (P) — Egypt formally proposed yesterday that the United Nations general assembly look into France's treatment of French Morocco. The Egyptian move apparently was intended to open the way for debate on Arab league demands for Moroccan independence. The assembly meets in Paris next month.

Red Boss Insists Soviets Will Not Use Bombs On U. S.

chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission, said "Stalin was only confirming what we (the United States) already knew."

"But we will watch with great interest any future tests Russia might make," he said.

(The test bomb was not necessarily dropped from an airplane, but might have been exploded on the ground, he added.)

(President Truman made a statement Wednesday saying the Russians had achieved their second atomic bomb explosion. He had announced two years ago that the United States had knowledge of a previous Russian atomic explosion, but this earlier statement was never confirmed by a Soviet announcement.)

Stalin repeated that Russia wants international control of atomic weapons but charged that an American plan put before the United Nations was a "mockery of control."

"What do you think about international control in respect of atomic weapons?" his anonymous Pravda interviewer asked.

"The Soviet Union stands for the prohibition of atomic weapons and for stopping production of the atomic weapon," Stalin replied.

"The Soviet Union stands for strict international control in order that a decision on prohibition of the atomic weapon and on cessation of production of atomic weapons and on the use of already manufactured atomic bombs exclusively for peaceful purposes should be carried out conscientiously and with all exactitude."

Inspections Opposed
Stalin continued: "American leaders also speak of 'control' but their 'control' is derived not from stopping production of atomic weapons but from the continuation of such production and in such quantities as correspond to the quantity of raw materials at the disposal of this or that country."

"Consequently, American 'control' is based not on prohibition of the atomic weapon but on its legalization."

(The American plan was supported in the United Nations by a majority of members.)

(It called for an international commission to keep close control of all production of both atomic weapons and atomic energy for peaceful purposes.)

(The commission would have been empowered to make spot checks of atomic plants whenever it chose. These inspections would have included Russian plants and the Russians turned down the plan with bitter insistence it would violate her sovereignty.)

(The Russians made a new effort to secure U. N. adoption of their own plan after Mr. Truman reported in October, 1949, that the Soviet Union had succeeded in achieving its first atomic explosion.)

(The main idea of the Russian plan was a ban on all atomic weapons but it lacked ironclad arrangements for seeing that the ban was carried out.)

Free Cars For Maimed Veterans Proposed

WASHINGTON — (P) — A compromise bill providing free automobiles for blind and maimed veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict today waited Senate action.

It was approved late yesterday by the House. It includes major provisions of separate bills previously passed by both bodies of congress, and amends a law providing free cars for World War II veterans who had lost a leg.

The bill now directs the veterans administration to pay up to $1,600 on the purchase price of automobiles for veterans who have lost one or both feet, one or both hands or their sight in line of duty.
